Part II 答案解析

11. 【答案】A 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：从对话中我们了解到什么？根据听力原文 "I'm not going to have surgery after all. The doctor says I can start working out again soon and maybe play football like before in a few weeks ... It would be great if you could get back in shape in time for the World Cup" (我毕竟不用动手术了，医生说我能很快就能重新开始锻炼，几周后或许还能像以前一样踢足球……如果你能及时恢复状态赶上世界杯，那就太好了)，可知 A 项正确。
12. 【答案】D 【解析】建议题。问题问：女士建议男士做什么？根据听力原文 "Why not check out the new cafeteria at Market Street? I think there are still a few openings suitable for seniors like you" (为什么不去市场街那家新开的自助餐厅看看？我想那儿还有一些适合你这样的高年级学生的空缺职位)，可知 D 项正确。
13. 【答案】C 【解析】观点态度题。问题问：女士觉得那只猫怎么样？根据听力原文 "it never comes when I call it. It spills its food and sheds all over the place. I can't wait till John gets back" (我叫它时它从来不过来，它把食物撒得到处都是，还到处掉毛，我巴不得约翰早点回来)，可知 C 项正确。
14. 【答案】A 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：男士是什么意思？根据听力原文 "There must be a problem with the computing system. It should be straightened out in a couple of hours" (一定是计算机系统出了问题，几个小时后应该就能修好)，可知 A 项正确。
15. 【答案】B 【解析】原因目的题。问题问：男士为什么说无法按时提交作业？根据听力原文 "last night when I was putting the finishing touches on my paper, a computer failure completely wiped out my files. Do you think I can have another day to retype it?" (昨晚我正在给论文做最后润色时，一次电脑故障把我所有的文件都弄丢了，您看能不能再给我一天时间重新打一遍？)，可知 B 项正确。
16. 【答案】A 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：男士暗示了什么？根据听力原文 "Have you checked the academic calendar? My classes aren't over until the 8th" (你查过校历了吗？我的课要到 8 号才结束)，可知 A 项正确。

17. 【答案】C 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：男士暗示了什么？根据听力原文 "I thought we still had another month. Wait, I've got a brochure right here. Last Tuesday was the opening date" (我以为我们还有一个月时间。等等，我这儿正好有本小册子，上周二是开始申请的日期)，可知 C 项正确。
18. 【答案】C 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：男士是什么意思？根据听力原文 "Now with the new laws in effect and social awareness increasing, we are sure to turn things around" (现在新法律已经生效，社会意识也在增强，我们一定能扭转局面)，可知 C 项正确。
19. 【答案】B 【解析】细节理解题。问题问：哈罗德百货的食品大厅以什么著称？根据听力原文 "It sells many different kinds of food. For example, it has 250 kinds of cheese from all over the world and more than 180 kinds of bread" (它出售很多不同种类的食品，比如有来自世界各地的 250 种奶酪和 180 多种面包)，可知 B 项正确。
20. 【答案】B 【解析】细节理解题。问题问：在顾客看来，埃及厅像什么？根据听力原文 "when people see it, they feel they are in another world. It looks like an Egyptian building from 4,000 years ago" (人们看到它时，觉得自己仿佛置身于另一个世界，它看起来像一座四千年前的埃及建筑)，可知 B 项正确。
21. 【答案】D 【解析】细节理解题。问题问：顾客可能会发现哈罗德的哪一点令人惊讶？根据听力原文 "Is it true that Harrods produces its own electricity? ... Yes, it does. 70%, enough for a small town" (哈罗德自己发电是真的吗？……是的，它能自己发 70% 的电，足够一个小镇使用)，可知 D 项正确。
22. 【答案】B 【解析】数字信息题。问题问：平均每天大约有多少顾客来哈罗德？根据听力原文 "About 30,000 people come on an average day" (平均每天大约有 3 万人来)，可知 B 项正确。
23. 【答案】C 【解析】细节理解题。问题问：男士上次见到女士时，她在做什么？根据听力原文 "The last time I saw you, you were looking for a new job ... I was thinking about changing jobs" (我上次见到你时，你在找工作……我当时是在考虑换工作)，可知 C 项正确。
24. 【答案】A 【解析】原因目的题。问题问：女士为什么说她松了口气？根据听力原文 "I had been hoping to get a promotion for a while. So when it finally came through, I was relieved" (我一段时间以来一直盼着升职，所以当它终于实现时，我松了口气)，可知 A 项正确。
25. 【答案】B 【解析】原因目的题。问题问：女士为什么对男士的消息感到惊讶？根据听力原文 "I am getting married ... No, you said you'd never get married" (我要结婚了……不会吧，你曾说过你永远不结婚)，可知 B 项正确。
26. 【答案】D 【解析】细节理解题。问题问：关于水上摩托，说话者说了什么？根据听力原文 "Nowadays, speedy, colorful water scooters are gaining in popularity. They can travel anywhere a small boat can and are particularly popular with young people" (如今，速度快、色彩鲜艳的水上摩托越来越受欢迎，小艇能去的地方它都能去，尤其受年轻人喜爱)，可知 D 项正确。
27. 【答案】A 【解析】细节理解题。问题问：文中提到水上事故的原因之一是什么？根据听力原文 "Many water scooter operators are inexperienced and ignorant of navigational rules, which increases the potential for accidents" (许多水上摩托驾驶者缺乏经验，也不懂航行规则，这增加了发生事故的可能性)，可知 A 项正确。
28. 【答案】B 【解析】细节理解题。问题问：水上摩托在哪些方面被说成是环境公害？根据听力原文 "Beach residents complain of the noise of the scooters" (海滩居民抱怨水上摩托的噪音)，可知 B 项正确。
29. 【答案】D 【解析】建议题。问题问：为了确保海滩的娱乐安全，说话者提议什么？根据听力原文 "Regulations such as minimum operating age, restricted operating areas and compulsory classes in water safety are essential" (规定最低驾驶年龄、限制驾驶区域以及强制参加水上安全课程等法规是必不可少的)，可知 D 项正确。
30. 【答案】D 【解析】细节理解题。问题问：关于如今邻里之间的关系，说话者说了什么？根据听力原文 "maybe it's just as well that our relations with our neighbors are changing" (也许我们与邻居的关系正在发生变化，这未尝不是件好事)，可知 D 项正确。
31. 【答案】B 【解析】原因目的题。问题问：说话者为什么说人们可能很难去爱自己的邻居？根据听力原文 "Fewer than half the people in the United States live in the same house they lived in five years ago" (美国不到一半的人还住在五年前住过的房子里)，可知 B 项正确。
32. 【答案】C 【解析】建议题。问题问：在说话者看来，邻居之间应该怎样相处？根据听力原文 "The best relationship with neighbors is one of friendly distance" (与邻居最好的关系是保持友好的距离)，可知 C 项正确。

33. 【答案】D 【解析】原因目的题。问题问: 为什么许多美国人对学校不断上升的辍学率感到担忧? 根据听力原文 "soon we will no longer have a work force to fill the many jobs that require properly educated personnel" (很快我们将不再有足够的劳动力来填补那些需要受过良好教育人员的岗位), 可知 D 项正确。

34. 【答案】B 【解析】推理判断题。问题问: 关于美国的学生辍学问题, 我们了解到什么? 根据听力原文 "the increasing drop-out rate in our junior and senior high schools" (我们初中和高中不断上升的辍学率), 可知 B 项正确。

35. 【答案】C 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 文中提到激励学生的策略之一是什么? 根据听力原文 "Strategies to motivate students in high school include rewarding academic excellence by designating scholars of the month" (激励高中生的策略包括通过评选每月优秀学生来奖励学业优异的学生), 可知 C 项正确。

Part III 听力原文

Section A

11. M: Good news, I'm not going to have surgery after all. The doctor says I can start working out again soon and maybe play football like before in a few weeks.

W: That's terrific. It would be great if you could get back in shape in time for the World Cup.

Q: What do we learn from the conversation?

12. M: I really need to make some extra money. You know I've practically spent my entire budget for this semester.

W: Why not check out the new cafeteria at Market Street? I think there are still a few openings suitable for seniors like you.

Q: What does the woman suggest the man do?

13. M: I hear John left his cat in your care while he's on vacation abroad. How are you getting along with it?

W: Well, it never comes when I call it. It spills its food and sheds all over the place. I can't wait till John gets back.

Q: How does the woman find the cat?

14. W: Hello, Professor White, I got my grade in the mail this morning, but I think there might be a mistake in my mark.

M: Yeah, I've got several calls just like yours. There must be a problem with the computing system. It should be straightened out in a couple of hours.

Q: What does the man mean?

15. M: Professor Johnson, last night when I was putting the finishing touches on my paper, a computer failure completely wiped out my files. Do you think I can have another day to retype it?

W: I'm sorry, Rod. I'm leaving for a conference tomorrow and I'll be away two weeks. I suppose you could send me an E-copy.

Q: Why does the man say he can't submit his assignment on time?

16. W: I just called the travel agency, it's all set. On June 1st, we are heading for the mountains and will be camping there for a whole week.

M: Have you checked the academic calendar? My classes aren't over until the 8th.

Q: What does the man imply?

17. W: I thought there was still time for me to apply for a student loan. But someone just told me that the closing date was last Tuesday.

M: Are you sure? I thought we still had another month. Wait, I've got a brochure right here. Last Tuesday was the opening date.

Q: What does the man imply?

18. W: Look at all the pollutants going into the air from those factories. Do you think they'll ever get that under control?

M: Now with the new laws in effect and social awareness increasing, we are sure to turn things around.

Q: What does the man mean?

Long Conversation One

W: Tell me, Peter, what makes Harrods so famous?

M: Well, it's the biggest department store in the UK. And its food hall and the Egyptian hall are very famous. People come to Harrods just to see them.

W: What is special about the food hall?

更多学习资源，关注吉井解学公众号

M: It sells many different kinds of food. For example, it has 250 kinds of cheese from all over the world and more than 180 kinds of bread. Customers also love all the different kinds of chocolate. They buy a hundred tons every year.

W: That's amazing! And why is the Egyptian hall so famous?

M: Well, when people see it, they feel they are in another world. It looks like an Egyptian building from 4,000 years ago. And it sells beautiful objects. They are not 4,000 years old, of course.

W: Is it true that Harrods produces its own electricity?

M: Yes, it does. 70%, enough for a small town. To light the outside of the building, we use 11,500 light bulbs.

W: Really? Tell me, how many customers do you have on an average day? And how much do they spend?

M: About 30,000 people come on an average day. But during the sales, the number increases to 300,000 customers a day. How much do they spend? Well, on average, customers spend about 1.5 million pounds a day. The record for one day is nine million pounds.

W: Nine million pounds in one day?

M: Yes, on the first day of the January sales.

W: Harrods says it sells everything to everybody, everywhere. Is that really true?

M: Oh, yes. Of course! Absolutely everything!

Questions 19 to 22 are based on the conversation you've just heard.

19. What is the food hall of Harrods noted for?

20. What does the Egyptian hall seem like to the customers?

21. What may customers find surprising about Harrods?

22. About how many customers come to Harrods on an average day?

Long Conversation Two

W: Hi Kevin!

M: Hi Laura, long time no see! What have you been up to lately?

W: Not much, I can assure you. And you?

M: Much the same except I do have some big news.

W: Come on. This suspense is killing me.

M: No, really, what have you been doing these past few weeks? The last time I saw you, you were looking for a new job.

W: Well, that's not exactly true. I was thinking about changing jobs. Luckily, they offered me a new position in the accounting department.

M: A step up in the big business world.

W: I wouldn't exaggerate, but I am pleased. I had been hoping to get a promotion for a while. So when it finally came through, I was relieved. Actually, that's why I was looking for a new job. I just didn't want to work there anymore if they weren't going to recognize my efforts.

M: Right, sometimes you can do your best and it seems like the others don't know you exist. I hope the money's better.

W: I got a reasonable raise. Now enough about me. I'm dying to hear your news.

M: I am getting married.

W: No, you said you'd never get married.

M: That was then and this is now. You've got to meet Andrea, she's great!

W: This is all news to me. I didn't even know you were dating.

M: We weren't. We've just been dating for two weeks now.

W: And you're getting married?

M: I know. I can't help it. I just know she's the one.

W: Well, congratulations! That's fantastic!

M: Thanks, I'm glad to hear you feel that way.

Questions 23 to 25 are based on the conversation you've just heard.

23. What was the woman doing when the man last saw her?

24. Why does the woman say she was relieved?

25. Why is the woman surprised at the man's news?

Section B

Passage One

Water scooters are water vehicles that look very much like motorcycles. Nowadays, speedy, colorful water scooters are gaining in popularity. They can travel anywhere a small boat can and are particularly popular with young people. The rising popularity of the craft has raised the question of water scooter regulation. In this case, the argument for strict regulation is compelling. Water scooters are a particularly deadly form of water recreation. For example, two women were vacationing in Longboat Key while they were floating on a rubber boat along the shore, a water scooter crashed into them and killed them. Also water scooter operators have been killed or seriously injured in collisions with other water craft. Others have been stranded at sea when their scooters either failed or sank far from shore. Many water scooter operators are inexperienced and ignorant of navigational rules, which increases the potential for accidents. The increasing popularity of the scooter has aggravated the problem, providing more water vehicles to compete for the same space. Crowded water ways are simply an open invitation to disaster. In addition to the inherent operational hazards of water scooters, they are proving to be an environmental nuisance. Beach residents complain of the noise of the scooters. The Pacific Whale Foundation on the west coast expressed concern that the scooters are frightening away an endangered species of whale that migrates to Hawaii for breeding. Regulations such as minimum operating age, restricted operating areas and compulsory classes in water safety are essential. Without such regulations, tragedies involving water scooters are sure to multiply, which makes many beaches unsafe for recreation.

Questions 26 to 29 are based on the passage you've just heard.

26. What does the speaker say about water scooters?
27. What is mentioned as one of the causes of water accidents?
28. In what way are water scooters said to be an environmental nuisance?
29. What does the speaker propose to ensure the safety of beaches for recreation?

Passage Two

It seems to me that neighbors are going out of style in America. The friend next door from whom you borrowed eggs or a ladder has moved and the people in there now are strangers. Some of the traditional stories of neighborliness are impractical or silly and maybe it's just as well that our relations with our neighbors are changing. The saying in the Bible "Love thy neighbor" was probably a poor translation of what must have originally been "respect thy neighbor". Love can't be called up on order. Fewer than half the people in the United States live in the same house they lived in five years ago. So there is no reason to love the people who live next door to you, just because they happen to wander into a real estate office that listed the place next door to yours. The only thing neighbors have in common, to begin with, is proximity and unless something more develops, that isn't reason enough to be best friends. It sometimes happens naturally, but the chances are very small that your neighbors will be your closest friends or that you will be theirs, either. The best relationship with neighbors is one of friendly distance.

Questions 30 to 32 are based on the passage you've just heard.

30. What does the speaker say about the relations among neighbors nowadays?
31. Why does the speaker say it may be difficult for people to love their neighbors?
32. What should neighbors do in the speaker's opinion?

Passage Three

Articles in magazines and newspapers and special reports on radio and television reflect the concern of many Americans about the increasing drop-out rate in our junior and senior high schools. Coupled with this fact is the warning that soon we will no longer have a work force to fill the many jobs that require properly educated personnel. The high student drop-out rate is not a recent development. Ten years ago, many urban schools were reporting drop-out rates between 35 and 50 percent. Some administrators maintain that drop-outs remain the single greatest problem in their schools. Consequently, much effort has been spent on identifying students with problems in order to give them more attention before they become failures. Since the drop-out problem doesn't start in senior high school, special programs in junior high school focus on students who show promise but have a record of truancy — that is staying away from school without permission. Under the guidance of counselors, these students are placed in classes with teachers who have had success in working with similar young people. Strategies to motivate students in high school include rewarding academic excellence by designating scholars of the month, or by issuing articles of clothing, such as school letter jackets formerly given only to athletes. No one working with these students claims to know how to keep all students in school. Counselors, teachers and administrators are in the frontlines of what seems at times to be a losing battle. Actually, this problem should be everyone's concern since uneducated, unemployed citizens affect us all.

Questions 33 to 35 are based on the passage you've just heard.

33. Why are many Americans concerned with the increasing drop-out rate in school?
34. What do we learn about the student drop-out problem in America?
35. What is mentioned as one of the strategies used to motivate students?

Part III 听力原文

Section A

11. M: I'm asked to pick up the guest speaker Bob Russel at the airport this afternoon. Do you know what he looks like?

W: Well, he's in his sixties, he stands out, he's bald, tall and thin and has a beard.

Q: What do we conclude from the woman's remarks about Bob Russel?

12. M: I am considering dropping my dancing class. I am not making any progress.

W: If I were you, I'd stick with it. It's definitely worth time and effort.

Q: What does the woman suggest the man do?

13. W: You see I still have this pain in my back. This medicine the doctor gave me was supposed to make me feel better by now.

M: Maybe you should've taken it three times a day as you were told.

Q: What do we learn from the conversation?

14. M: Frankly, when I sit at the back of the classroom, I can't see the words on the board clearly.

W: Well, you've been wearing those same glasses as long as I've known you. Why not get a new pair? It wouldn't cost you too much.

Q: What does the woman imply about the man's glasses?

15. W: How come the floor is so wet? I almost slipped. What happened?

M: Oh, sorry! The phone rang the moment I got into the shower. Anyway, I'll wipe it up right now.

Q: Why was the floor wet according to the man?

16. M: The instructions on the package say that you need to do some assembly yourself. I've spent all afternoon trying in vain to put this bookcase together.

W: I know what you mean. Last time I tried to assemble a toy train for my son and I almost gave up.

Q: What does the man find difficult?

17. M: I'm getting worried about Jenny's school work. All she talks about these days is volleyball games and all she does is practice, training and things like that.

W: Her grades on the coming exams will fall for sure. It's high time we talked some sense to her.

Q: What does the woman suggest they do?

18. W: Do you understand why the local people are opposed to the new dam up the river?

M: They are worried about the potential danger if the dam should break. The river is very wide above the proposed site.

Q: What do we learn from the conversation?

Long Conversation One

W: Mr. White, what changes have you seen in the champagne market in the last ten to fifteen years?

M: Well, the biggest change has been the decrease in sales since the great boom years of the 1980s when champagne production and sales reached record levels.

W: Which was the best year?

M: Well, the record was in 1989 when 249 million bottles of champagne were sold. The highest production level was reached in 1990 with a total of 293 million bottles. Of course since those boom years sales have fallen.

W: Has the market been badly hit by the recession?

M: Oh certainly. The economic problems in champagne's export markets — that's Europe, the United States, Japan, and of course the domestic market in France — the economic problems have certainly been one reason for the decrease in champagne sales.

W: And the other reasons?

M: Another important factor has been price. In the early 90s, champagne was very overpriced, so many people stopped buying it. Instead they bought sparkling wines from other countries, in particular from Australia and Spain. And then there was another problem for champagne in the early 90s.

W: What was that?

M: There was a lot of rather bad champagne on the market. This meant the popularity of good sparkling wines increased even more. People were surprised by their quality and of course they were a lot cheaper than champagne.

W: Do you think the champagne market will recover in the future?

M: Oh, I'm sure it will. When the economic situation improves, I believe the market will recover.

Questions 19 to 21 are based on the conversation you've just heard.

19. What does the man say about champagne in the 1980s?

20. Why did sparkling wines become more popular than champagne in the early 90s?
21. What does the man think of the champagne market in the future?

Long Conversation Two

W: Right, well, in the studio this morning for our interview spot is Peter Wilson. Peter works for Green Peace. So, Peter, welcome.

M: Thanks a lot. It's good to be here.

W: Great! Now, Peter, perhaps you can tell us something about Green Peace and your job there.

M: Sure. Well, I'll start by telling you roughly what Green Peace is all about. I actually work in London for the Green Peace organization. We've been going for a few decades and we're a non-violent, non-political organization. We're involved in anti-nuclear activity, conservation and protection of animals and protection and support of our eco-system. I'm the action organizer and arrange any protests.

W: Right! A pretty important role, Peter. What sort of protest would you organize?

M: Well, recently we've been involved in anti-nuclear campaigns. I personally arranged for the demonstration against radioactive waste dumping in the Atlantic Ocean. We've got a few small Green Peace boats that we harass the dumping ship with.

W: Say? Hold on, Peter. I thought you said your organization was non-violent. What do you mean by "harass"?

M: Well, we circle round and round the ships and get in the way when they try to dump the drums of nuclear waste in the sea. We talk to the men and try to change, you know, yell at them to stop. We generally make ourselves as much of a nuisance as possible.

W: Well, people may think differently of your methods, but there's no doubt you're doing a great job. Keep it up and good luck. And thanks for talking with us.

Questions 22 to 25 are based on the conversation you've just heard.

22. What is the man's chief responsibility in the Green Peace organization?
23. What has Green Peace been involved in recently?
24. How does Green Peace try to stop people from dumping nuclear waste?
25. What is the woman's attitude towards the Green Peace's campaigns?

Section B

Passage One

To find out what the weather is going to be, most people go straight to the radio, television, or newspaper to get an expert weather forecast. But if you know what to look for, you can use your own senses to make weather predictions. There are many signs that can help you. For example, in fair weather the air pressure is generally high, the air is still and often full of dust, and far away objects may look vague. But when a storm is brewing, the pressure drops, and you are often able to see things more clearly. Sailors took note of this long ago, and came up with the saying, "The farther the sight, the nearer the rain." Your sense of smell can also help you detect weather changes. Just before it rains, odors become stronger. This is because odors are repressed in a fair high pressure center. When a bad weather low moves in, air pressure lessens and odors are released. You can also hear an approaching storm. Sounds bounce off heavy storm clouds and return to earth with increased force. An old saying describes it this way, "Sounds traveling far and wide a stormy day will betide." And don't laugh at your grandmother if she says she can feel a storm coming. It is commonly known that many people feel pains in their bones or joints when the humidity rises, the pressure drops, and bad weather is on the way.

Questions 26 to 28 are based on the passage you've just heard.

26. Why does the speaker say we can see far away objects more clearly as a storm is approaching?
27. What does the speaker want to show by quoting a couple of old sayings?
28. What does the passage mainly talk about?

Passage Two

Many days seem to bring numerous tasks and responsibilities, all of which apparently must be tackled right away. You spend a day putting out fires, but by the end of the day, you haven't accomplished any of the really important things you set out to do. In desperation, you draft a "to-do" list, but most days, you can make little progress with it. When you look at the list each morning, a big fat cloud of doom is right at the top. Those difficult, complex, important tasks that are so crucial to get done, and so easy to avoid. Plenty of us create a "to-do" list to address feelings of being overwhelmed, but we rarely use these tools to their best effect. They wind up being guilt-provoking reminders of the fact that we're over-committed and losing control of our priorities. According to Timothy Pychyl, a professor of psychology at Carlton University in Ottawa, people often draw up a "to-do" list, and then that's it. The list itself becomes the day's achievement, allowing us to feel we've done something useful without taking on any real work. In fact, drawing up the list becomes a way of avoiding the work itself. Too often, the list is seen as the accomplishment for the day, reducing the immediate guilt of not working on the tasks at hand by investing energy in the list, says Pynchyl. When a list is used like this, it's simply another way in which we lie to ourselves.

Questions 29 to 31 are based on the passage you've just heard.

29. What is the problem that troubles many people nowadays according to the speaker?
30. According to the speaker, what do too many people do to cope with their daily tasks?
31. According to psychologist Timothy Pynchyl, what do people find by the end of the day?

Passage Three

In many stressful situations, the body's responses can improve our performance. We become more energetic, more alert, better able to take effective action. But when stress is encountered continually, the body's reactions are more likely to be harmful than helpful to us. The continual speeding up of bodily reactions and production of stress-related hormones seem to make people more susceptible to heart disease. And stress reactions can reduce the disease-fighting effectiveness of the body's immune system, thereby increasing susceptibility to illnesses ranging from colds to cancer. Stress may also contribute to disease in less direct ways by influencing moods and behavior. People under stress may become anxious or depressed, and as a result may eat too much or too little, have sleep difficulties or fail to exercise. These behavioral changes may in turn be harmful to the health. In addition, people are more likely to pay attention to certain bodily sensations such as aches and pains when they are under stress and to think that they're sick. If the person were not under stress, the same bodily sensations might not be perceived as symptoms and the person might continue to feel well. Some researchers have suggested that assuming the role of a sick person is one way in which certain people try to cope with stress. Instead of dealing with the stressful situation directly, these people fall sick. After all, it is often more acceptable in our society to be sick and to seek medical help than it is to admit that one cannot cope with the stresses of life.

Questions 32 to 35 are based on the passage you've just heard.

32. What does the speaker say about people who encounter stress once in a while?
33. What does the speaker say frequent stress reactions may lead to?
34. What are people more likely to do when they are under stress?
35. What does the passage mainly talk about?

Part III 听力原文

Section A

11. W: I forgot to tell you that Fred called last night to borrow your sleeping bag.

M: Oh, I saw him at the gym this morning, but he didn't say anything. So he must have asked somebody else.

Q: What does the man imply?

12. W: These summer days are getting to be more than I can take. It was even too hot to go to the pool yesterday.

M: Hang in there. According to the weather report we should have some relief by the end of the week.

Q: What does the man mean?

13. W: Well, tonight we have Professor Brown in our studio to talk about the famous oil painting of Queen Victoria. Good evening, professor.

M: Good evening, madam, my pleasure to be here tonight.

Q: What is the woman doing?

14. M: The plants next to the window always look brown. You wouldn't know by looking at them that I water them every week.

W: Maybe they don't like direct sunlight. I had the same problem with some of my plants. And a little shade helps them immensely.

Q: What does the woman imply?

15. M: I'm really exhausted, Mary. But I don't want to miss the Hollywood movie that comes on at 11.

W: If I were you, I'd skip it. We both have to get up early tomorrow. And anyway I've heard it's not as exciting as advertised.

Q: What does the woman suggest the man do?

16. M: Those modern sculptures over there are really weird. Don't you think so?

W: Well, I couldn't stand them either at first. But now I've come to like modern art, particularly those sculptures carved by Italian artists.

Q: What does the woman mean?

17. M: I'm really glad our club decided to raise money for the children's hospital. And most of the people we phoned seemed happy to contribute.

W: Yeah! I agree. Now that we've gone through all the numbers on our list, I guess we can call it a day.

Q: What do we learn about the speakers?

18. M: Have you heard of Professor Smith? I'm thinking of taking an advanced engineering course with him. What do you think?

W: Yeah! You really should. He's published dozens of books so far, once been recommended as a textbook for postgraduates.

Q: What does the woman imply?

Long Conversation One

W: You're the editor of Public Eye. What kind of topics does your program cover?

M: Well, there are essentially domestic stories. We don't cover international stories. We don't cover party politics or economics. We do issues of general social concern to our British audience. They can be anything from the future of the health service to the way the environment is going downhill.

W: How do you choose the topic? Do you choose one because it's what the public wants to know about or because it's what you feel the public ought to know about?

M: I think it's a mixture of both. Sometimes you have a strong feeling that something is important and you want to see it examined and you want to contribute to a public debate. Sometimes people come to you with things they are worried about and they can be quite small things. They can be a story about corruption in local government, something they cannot quite understand, why it doesn't seem to be working out properly, like they are not having their litter collected properly or the dustbins emptied.

W: How do you know that you've got a really successful program? One that is just right for the time?

M: I think you get a sense about it after working in it for a number of years. You know which stories are going to get the attention. They are going to be published just at the point when the public are concerned about that.

Questions 19 to 21 are based on the conversation you've just heard.

19. What kind of topics does Public Eye cover?

20. How does Public Eye choose its topics?

21. What factor plays an important role in running a successful program?

Long Conversation Two

W: Hi, Professor Smith. I hear you've written a book on future trends.

M: That's right. It's called "The World in 2050".

W: Can you tell us what the world will be like in 2050?

M: Well, one thing is for sure, the population will be much larger. There will be more than 9 billion people on Earth.

W: That's a lot of people. Will we have enough food?

M: I think so. But we'll have to use technology much more efficiently. We'll also have to control the environment better.

W: What about energy?

M: We'll have to find new sources of energy. Oil will be running out. I think we'll use more solar and wind power. And maybe we'll even find a way to use nuclear fusion.

W: Will people live longer?

M: Yes, definitely. The average life span will be over 80 years. In some countries, it might even be over 90.

W: Will people work longer too?

M: I think so. People will have to work longer because there won't be enough young people to support the old.

W: What about technology? Will we have robots doing all the work?

M: Not all the work, but many routine jobs will be done by robots. People will have more time for creative activities.

W: That sounds wonderful. But won't there be problems like unemployment?

M: There might be some problems, but I think we'll find solutions. The key is to educate people to adapt to the new environment.

Questions 22 to 25 are based on the conversation you've just heard.

22. What does Professor Smith say about people in the past?

23. What does Professor Smith think people should do to cope with future changes?

24. When will population stop growing according to Professor Smith?

25. What is the most important thing we need to do for the future?

Section B

Passage One

Getting behind the wheel of a car can be an exciting new step in a teen's life. But along with that excitement comes a new responsibility — understanding the need for common sense and maturity to avoid accidents. In an effort to spread awareness to teens across the nation, the Allstate Foundation sponsored a Keep-The-Drive Summit at Sunset Station on January 23rd. Students from Kennedy and Alamo Heights High schools participated in the summit which was held here for the first time. The goal of the year-long effort is to educate teens on the rules of safe driving and the severe consequences that can result if those rules are not followed, and then have them communicate that information to their peers. The students watched videos that told them about the numbers of teenage driving injuries and deaths. They listened to the videos as students from other cities share their stories of how their reckless driving affected not only their lives but also those of their passengers. "We are trying to create awareness in high schools across the country," said Westerman, an Allstate representative, "we focus on changing how teens think behind the wheel." According to the presentation, more teens die in automobile crashes in the United States each year than from drugs, violence, smoking and suicide. An average of 16 teens die every day in motor vehicle crashes and nearly forty percent of those are caused by speeding. Texas is the state with the most teen driving deaths according to the presentation. Students agreed that the statistics were amazing and made them think twice about how they drive.

Questions 26 to 28 are based on the passage you've just heard.

26. For what purpose did the Allstate Foundation sponsor the Keep-The-Drive Summit?

27. What causes the greatest number of deaths among American teens according to the presentation?

28. What can we conclude about the Keep-The-Drive Summit?

Passage Two

Dr. Alan Hirsch designs smells for businesses. He says that it doesn't take a whole lot of smell to affect you. Store owners can lure you to the candy aisle, even if you don't realize you are smelling candy. This idea scares a lot of people. Groups that protect the rights of shoppers are upset. They say the stores are using a kind of brainwashing which they call "smell-washing". "It's pretty dishonest," says Mark Silbergeld. He runs an organization that checks out products for consumers. The scientists hired to design the scents disagree. "There's soft background music. There's special lighting. There're all sorts of bells being used," says Dr. Hirsch, "why not smells?" "One reason why not," says Silbergeld, "is that some people are allergic to certain scents pumped into products or stores." But there is a whole other side to this debate: do the smells really work? So far, there is little proof one way or the other. But Dr. Hirsch has run some interesting experiments. In one of Hirsch's experiments, 31 volunteers were led into a shoe store that smells slightly like flowers. Later, another group shopped in the same store, but with no flower odor. Dr. Hirsch found that 84% of the shoppers were more likely to buy the shoes in the flower-scented room, but Hirsch found out something even stranger. Whether the volunteers liked the flower scent or not didn't matter, Hirsch says. Some reported that they hated the smell, but they still were more likely to buy the shoes in the scented room.

Questions 29 to 31 are based on the passage you've just heard.

29. Why are some people against the use of smells to attract customers?
30. What is Dr. Hirsch's attitude to the use of smells for business?
31. What did Hirsch's experiment show?

Passage Three

This is Ray McCarthy with the news. Reports are coming in of a major train crash in Japan. A passenger train carrying hundreds of workers home from the center of Tokyo is reported to have hit an oncoming goods train. Both were traveling at high speed. Figures are not yet available but it is believed that the death toll could be as high as 300, with hundreds more injured. Emergency and rescue services rushed to the scene. But our reporter says it will take days to clear the track and to establish the numbers of the dead and injured. There was a similar accident on the same stretch of track four years ago.

There was another bomb scare in a large London store last night during late night shopping. Following a telephone call to the police from an anonymous caller, hundreds of shoppers were shepherded out of the store while roads in the area were sealed off. Police dogs spent hours searching the store for a bag which the caller claimed contained 50 pounds of explosives. Nothing was found and the store was given the all-clear by opening time this morning. A police spokesman said that this was the third bomb scare within a week and that we should all be on our guard.

And finally, the motoring organizations have issued a warning to drivers following the recent falls of snow in many parts of the country. Although the falls may be slight, they say extra care is needed.

Questions 32 to 35 are based on the passage you've just heard.

32. What accident happened recently in Japan?
33. What do the reports say about the recent accident in Japan?
34. Why did people have to leave the London store last night?
35. What did motoring organizations advise drivers to do?

35. 【答案】D 【解析】原因目的题。问题问: 说话者为什么说我们应该摒弃刻板印象? 根据听力原文 "They fail to account for individual differences and the wide range of characteristics among members of any group" (它们没有考虑到个体差异以及任何群体成员之间广泛的特征差异), 可知 D 项正确。

Part III 听力原文

Section A

11. W: Did you use credit cards on your vacation last month in Europe?

M: Sure did. They certainly beat going around with a wallet full of big bills. But carrying lots of cash is still very common among some older people travelling abroad.

Q: What does the man say about some elderly people?

12. M: Rod must be in a bad mood today. What's wrong with him?

W: He was passed over in the selection process for the dean of the Administration's Office. He'd been hoping for the position for a long time.

Q: What does the woman mean?

13. M: What a great singer Justin is! His concert is just awesome and you'll never regret the money you paid for the ticket.

W: Yeah, judging by the amount of applause, everyone was enjoying it.

Q: What does the woman mean?

14. W: I received an email yesterday from Henry. Do you remember he was one of the chairpersons of our Students' Union?

M: Yes, but I haven't heard from him for ages. Actually, I have been out of touch with him since our first reunion after graduation.

Q: What do we learn about the speakers?

15. M: Driving at night always makes me tired. Let's stop for dinner.

W: Fine, and let's find a motel so that we can get an early start tomorrow.

Q: What will the speakers probably do?

16. W: Let's look at the survey on consumer confidence we conducted last week. How reliable are these figures?

M: They have a 5% margin of error.

Q: What are the speakers talking about?

17. W: Look at this catalogue, John. I think I want to get this red blouse.

M: Eh, I think you already have one like this in blue. Do you need every color in the rainbow?

Q: What does the man mean?

18. W: This notice says that all the introductory marketing classes are closed.

M: That can't be true. There are supposed to be 13 of them this semester.

Q: What does the man mean?

Long Conversation One

M: I see from your resume that you worked as a manager of a store called Computer Country. Could you tell me a little more about your responsibilities there?

W: Sure. I was responsible for overseeing about 30 employees. I did all of the orderings for the store and I kept track of the inventory.

M: What was the most difficult part of your job?

W: Probably handling angry customers. We didn't have them very often, but when we did, I needed to make sure they were well taken care of. After all, the customer is always right.

M: That's how we feel here, too. How long did you work there?

W: I was there for three and a half years. I left the company last month.

M: And why did you leave?

W: My husband has been transferred to Boston and I understand that your company has an opening there, too.

M: Yes, that's right. We do. But the position won't start until early next month. Would that be a problem for you?

W: No, not at all. My husband's new job doesn't begin for a few weeks, so we thought we would spend some time driving to Boston and stop to see my parents.

M: That sounds nice. So, tell me, why are you interested in this particular position?

W: I know that your company has a great reputation and wonderful product. I've thought many times that I would like to be a part of it. When I heard about the opening in Boston, I jumped at the opportunity.

M: Well, I'm glad you did.

Questions 19 to 22 are based on the conversation you've just heard.

19. What was the woman's previous job?

20. What does the woman say was the most difficult part of her job?

21. Why is the woman looking for a job in Boston?

22. When can the woman start to work if she gets the job?

Long Conversation Two

W: Today, in this studio, we have Alberto Cuties, the well-known Brazilian advocate of the anti-global movement. He's here to talk about the recent report stating that by 2050, Brazil will be one of the world's wealthiest and most successful countries. Alberto, what do you say about this report?

M: You know this isn't the first time that people are saying Brazil will be a great economic power. The same thing was said over 100 years ago, but it didn't happen.

W: Yes, but you must admit the world's a very different place now.

M: Of course. In fact, I believe that there may be some truths in the predictions this time around. First of all, though, we must remember the problems facing Brazil at the moment.

W: Such as?

M: There's an enormous gap between the rich and the poor in this country. In San Paulo, you can see shopping malls full of designer goods right next door to slum areas without proper water or electricity supplies. A lot of work needs to be done to help people in those areas improve their lives.

W: What needs to be done?

M: Education, for example. For Brazil to be successful, we need to offer education to all Brazilians. Successful countries, like South Korea and Singapore, have excellent education systems. Brazil needs to learn from these countries.

W: So you're hopeful for the future?

M: As I said earlier, I'm hopeful. This isn't an easy job. We need to make sure that these important opportunities for Brazil aren't wasted as they were in the past.

Questions 23 to 25 are based on the conversation you've just heard.

23. What does the recent report say about Brazil?

24. What problem does Alberto say Brazil faces now?

25. What does Alberto say about economically successful countries?

Section B

Passage One

Wilma Subra had no intention of becoming a public speaker. After graduating from college with degrees in chemistry and microbiology, she went to work at Gulf South Research Institute in Louisiana. As part of her job, she conducted field research on toxic substances in the environment, often in minority communities located near large industrial polluters. She found many families were being exposed to high, sometimes deadly levels of chemicals and other toxic substances. But she was not allowed to make her information public. Frustrated by these restrictions, Subra left her job in 1981, created her own company and has devoted the past two decades to helping people fight back against giant industrial polluters. She works with families and community groups to conduct environmental tests and interpret test results, and organize for change. Because of her efforts, dozens of toxic sites across the country have been cleaned up. And one chemical industry spokesperson calls her "a top gun" for the environmental movement. How has Subra achieved all this? Partly through her scientific training, partly through her commitment to environmental justice. But just as important is her ability to communicate with people through public speaking. "Public speaking," she says, "is the primary vehicle I use for reaching people." If you had asked Subra before 1981, "Do you see yourself as a major public speaker?" she would have laughed at the idea. Yet today she gives more than one hundred presentations a year. Along the way, she's lectured at Harvard, testified before Congress, and addressed audiences in 40 states, as well as in Mexico, Canada, and Japan.

Questions 26 to 29 are based on the passage you've just heard.

26. What did Wilma Subra do as part of her job while working at Gulf South Research Institute?

Passage Two

One of the biggest challenges facing employers and educators today is the rapid advance of globalization. The marketplace is no longer national or regional, but extends to all corners of the world. And this requires a global-ready workforce. Universities have a large part to play in preparing students for the 21st century labor market by promoting international educational experiences. The most obvious way universities can help develop a global workforce is by encouraging students to study abroad as part of their course. Students who have experienced another culture firsthand are more likely to be global-ready when they graduate. Global workforce development doesn't always have to involve travel abroad, however. If students learn another language and study other cultures, they will be more global-ready when they graduate. It is important to point out that students also need to have a deep understanding of their own culture before they can begin to observe, analyze and evaluate other cultures. In multi-cultural societies, people can study each other's cultures to develop intercultural competencies, such as critical and reflective thinking and intellectual flexibility. This can be done both through the curriculum and through activities on campus outside of the classroom, such as art exhibitions and lectures from international experts. Many universities are already embracing this challenge and providing opportunities for students to become global citizens. Students themselves, however, may not realize that when they graduate, they will be competing in a global labor market. And universities need to raise awareness of these issues amongst undergraduates.

Questions 30 to 32 are based on the passage you've just heard.

30. What is one of the biggest challenges facing employers and educators today?
31. What should students do first before they can really understand other cultures?
32. What should college students realize according to the speaker?

Passage Three

To see if hair color affects a person's chances of getting a job, researchers at California State University asked 136 college students to review the resume and photograph of a female applicant for a job as an accountant. Each student was given the same resume but the applicant's picture was altered so that in some photos, her hair was golden, in some red and in some brown. The result: with brown hair, the woman was rated more capable and she was offered a higher salary than when she had golden or red hair. Other studies have found similar results. Many respondents rate women with golden hair as less intelligent than other people and red hair as more temperamental. Women with red or golden hair are victims of the common practice of stereotyping. A stereotype is a simplistic or exaggerated image that human carries in their minds about groups of people. For example, "lawyers are shrewd and dishonest" is a popular stereotype. Stereotyping can occur in public speaking classes when trying to choose a speech topic. Some males think that women are uninterested in how to repair cars, or some females think that men are uninterested in creative hobbies, such as knitting or needlepoint. We should reject stereotypes because they force all people in a group into the same simple pattern. They fail to account for individual differences and the wide range of characteristics among members of any group. Some lawyers are dishonest, yes, but many are not. Some women are uninterested in repairing cars, yes, but some are enthusiastic about mechanics.

Questions 33 to 35 are based on the passage you've just heard.

33. What did researchers at California State University find?
34. What is the popular stereotype of lawyers?
35. Why does the speaker say we should reject stereotypes?

Part III 听力原文

Section A

11. M: Oh, I'm so sorry I forgot to bring along the book you borrowed from the library.

W: What a terrible memory you have! Anyway, I won't need it until Friday night. As long as I can get it by then, OK?

Q: What do we learn from this conversation?

12. W: Doctor, I haven't been able to get enough sleep lately, and I'm too tired to concentrate in class.

M: Well, you know, spending too much time indoors with all that artificial lighting can do that to you. Your body loses track of whether it's day or night.

Q: What does the man imply?

13. M: I think I'll get one of those new T-shirts, you know, with the school's logo on both the front and the back.

W: You'll regret it. They are expensive, and I've heard the printing fades easily when you wash them.

Q: What does the woman mean?

14. W: I think your article in the school newspaper is right on target, and your viewpoints have certainly convinced me.

M: Thanks, but in view of the general responses, you and I are definitely in the minority.

Q: What does the man mean?

15. M: Daisy was furious yesterday because I lost her notebook. Should I go see her and apologize to her again?

W: Well, if I were you, I'd let her cool off a few days before I approach her.

Q: What does the woman suggest the man do?

16. M: Would you please tell me where I can get batteries for this brand of camera?

W: Let me have a look. Oh, yes, go down this aisle, pass the garden tools, you'll find them on the shelf next to the light bulbs.

Q: What is the man looking for?

17. M: Our basketball team is playing in the finals but I don't have a ticket. I guess I'll just watch it on TV. Do you want to come over?

W: Actually I have a ticket. But I'm not feeling well. You can have it for what it cost me.

Q: What do we learn from the conversation?

18. M: Honey, I'll be going straight to the theatre from work this evening. Could you bring my suit and tie along?

W: Sure, it's the first performance of the State Symphony Orchestra in our city, so suit and tie is a must.

Q: What do we learn from the conversation?

Long Conversation One

M: I got two letters this morning with job offers, one from the Polytechnic, and the other from the Language School in Pistoia, Italy.

W: So you are not sure which to go for?

M: That's it. Of course, the conditions of work are very different: The Polytechnic is offering a two-year contract which could be renewed, but the Language School is only offering a year's contract, and that's a definite minus. It could be renewed, but you never know.

W: I see. So it's much less secure. But you don't need to think too much about steady jobs when you are only 23.

M: That's true.

W: What about the salaries?

M: Well, the Pistoia job pays much better in the short term. I'll be getting the equivalent of about 22,000 pounds a year there, but only 20,000 pounds at the Polytechnic. But then the hours are different. At the Polytechnic I'd have to do 35 hours a week, 20 teaching and 15 administration, whereas the Pistoia school is only asking for 30 hours.

W: Mmm...

M: Then the type of teaching is so different. The Polytechnic is all adults and mostly preparation for exams like the Cambridge certificates. The Language School wants me to do a bit of exam preparation, but also quite a lot of work in companies and factories, and a couple of children's classes. Oh, and a bit of literature teaching.

W: Well, that sounds much more varied and interesting. And I'd imagine you'd be doing quite a lot of teaching outside the school, and moving around quite a bit.

M: Yes, whereas with the Polytechnic position, I'd be stuck in the school all day.

Questions 19 to 21 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

19. What do we learn about the man from the conversation?

20. What do we learn about the students at the Polytechnic?

21. What does the woman think of the job at the Language School?

Long Conversation Two

W: Good evening and welcome to tonight's edition of Legendary Lives. Our subject this evening is James Dean, actor and hero for the young people of his time. Edward Murray is the author of a new biography of Dean.

W: Good evening, Edward.

M: Hello, Marian.

W: Edward, tell us what you know about Dean's early life.

M: He was born in Indiana in 1931, but his parents moved to California when he was five. He wasn't there long though because his mother passed away just four years later. Jimmy's father sent him back to Indiana after that to live with his aunt.

W: So how did he get into acting?

M: Well, first he acted in plays at high school, then he went to college in California where he got seriously into acting. In 1951 he moved to New York to do more stage work.

W: Then when did his movie career really start?

M: 1955. His first starring role was in East of Eden. It was fabulous. Dean became a huge success. But the movie that really made him famous was his second one, Rebel Without a Cause, that was about teenagers who felt like they didn't fit into society.

W: So how many more movies did he make?

M: Just one more, then he died in that car crash in California in 1955.

W: What a tragedy! He only made three movies! So what made him the legend he still is today?

M: Well I guess his looks, his acting ability, his short life, and maybe the type of character he played in his movies. Many young people saw him as a symbol of American youth.

Questions 22 to 25 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

22. What is the woman doing?

23. Why did James Dean move back to Indiana when he was young?

24. What does the man say James Dean did at college in California?

25. What do we learn about James Dean from the conversation?

Section B

Passage One

The time is 9 o'clock and this is Marian Snow with the news.

The German authorities are sending investigators to discover the cause of the plane crash late yesterday on the island of Tenerife. The plane, a Boeing 737, taking German holiday makers to the island crashed into a hillside as it circled while preparing to land. The plane was carrying 180 passengers. It's thought there are no survivors. Rescue workers are at the scene.

The British industrialist James Louis, held by kidnappers in Central Africa for the past 8 months, was released unharmed yesterday. The kidnappers had been demanding 1 million pounds for the release of Mr. Louis. The London Bank and their agents who had been negotiating with the kidnappers have not said whether any amount of money has been paid.

The 500 UK motors workers who had been on strike in High Town for the past three weeks went back to work this morning. This follows successful talks between management and union representatives, which resulted in a new agreement on working hour and conditions. A spokesman for the management said that they'd hope they could now get back to producing cars, and that they lost a lot of money and orders over this dispute.

And finally the weather. After a cold start, most of the country should be warm and sunny. But towards late afternoon, rain will spread from Scotland to cover most parts by midnight.

Questions 26 to 29 are based on the passage you have just heard.

26. What does the news say about the Boeing 737 plane?

27. What happened to British industrialist James Louis?

28. How did the 3-week strike in High Town end?

29. What kind of weather will be expected by midnight in most parts of the country?

Passage Two

Juan Louis, a junior geology major, decided to give an informative speech about how earthquakes occur. From his audience analysis he learned that only 2 or 3 of his classmates knew much of anything about geology. Juan realized then that he must present his speech at an elementary level and with a minimum of scientific language.

As he prepared the speech, Juan kept asking himself, "How can I make this clear and meaningful to someone who knows nothing about earthquakes or geological principles?" Since he was speaking in the Midwest, he decided to begin by noting that the most severe earthquake in American history took place not in California or Alaska but at New Madrid, Missouri in 1811. If such an earthquake happened today, it would be felt from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic Ocean and would flatten most of the cities in the Mississippi valley. That, he figured, should get his classmates' attention.

Throughout the body of the speech, Juan dealt only with the basic mechanics of earthquakes and carefully avoided technical terms. He also prepared visual aids, diagramming fold lines, so his classmates wouldn't get confused. To be absolutely safe, Juan asked his roommate, who was not a geology major, to listen to the speech. "Stop me," he said, "any time I say something you don't understand." Juan's roommate stopped him four times. And at each spot, Juan worked out a way to make his point more clearly. Finally, he had a speech that was interesting and perfectly understandable to his audience.

Questions 30 to 32 are based on the passage you have just heard.

30. What did Juan Louis learn from the analysis of his audience?
31. How did Juan Louis start his speech?
32. What did Juan ask his roommate to do when he was making his trial speech?

Passage Three

Esperanto is an artificial language, designed to serve internationally as an auxiliary means of communication among speakers of different languages. It was created by Ludwig Lazar Zamenhof, a Polish Jewish doctor specialized in eye diseases. Esperanto was first presented in 1887. An international movement was launched to promote its use. Despite arguments and disagreements, the movement has continued to flourish and has members in more than 80 countries.

Esperanto is used internationally across language boundaries by at least 1 million people, particularly in specialized fields. It is used in personal contexts, on radio broadcasts and in a number of publications as well as in translations of both modern works and classics. Its popularity has spread from Europe, both east and west, to such countries as Brazil and Japan. It is, however, in China that Esperanto has had its greatest impact. It is taught in universities and used in many translations, often in scientific or technological works. EL POPOLA CHINIO, which means "From People's China", is a monthly magazine in Esperanto and is read worldwide. Radio Beijing's Esperanto program is the most popular program in Esperanto in the world.

Esperanto's vocabulary is drawn primarily from Latin, the Romance languages, English and German. Spelling is completely regular. A simple and consistent set of endings indicates grammatical functions of words. Thus for example, every noun ends in "o", every adjective in "a", and the basic form of every verb in "i". Esperanto also has a highly productive system of constructing new words from old ones.

Questions 33 to 35 are based on the passage you have just heard.

33. What does the speaker tell us about Esperanto?
34. What is said about the international movement to promote the use of Esperanto?
35. What does the speaker say about Esperanto in China?

2010 年 12 月大学英语六级(CET-6)听力部分 Section A&B

Part I 听力题目

Section A

Directions: In this section, you will hear 8 short conversations and 2 long conversations. At the end of each conversation, one or more questions will be asked about what was said. Both the conversation and the questions will be spoken only once. After each question there will be a pause. During the pause, you must read the four choices marked A), B), C) and D), and decide which is the best answer. Then mark the corresponding letter on Answer Sheet 2 with a single line through the centre.

- | | |
|--|--|
| 11. A) The man is the manager of the apartment building. | B) The woman is very good at bargaining. |
| C) The woman will get the apartment refurbished. | D) The man is looking for an apartment. |
| 12. A) How the pictures will turn out. | B) Where the botanical garden is. |
| C) What the man thinks of the shots. | D) Why the pictures are not ready. |
| 13. A) There is no replacement for the handle. | B) There is no match for the suitcase. |
| C) The suitcase is not worth fixing. | D) The suitcase can be fixed in time. |
| 14. A) He needs a vehicle to be used in harsh weather. | B) He has a fairly large collection of quality trucks. |
| C) He has had his truck adapted for cold temperatures. | D) He does routine truck maintenance for the woman. |
| 15. A) She cannot stand her boss's bad temper. | B) She has often been criticized by her boss. |
| C) She has made up her mind to resign. | D) She never regrets any decisions she makes. |
| 16. A) Look for a shirt of a more suitable color and size. | B) Replace the shirt with one of some other material. |
| C) Visit a different store for a silk or cotton shirt. | D) Get a discount on the shirt she is going to buy. |
| 17. A) At a "Lost and Found". | B) At a reception desk. |

| 19. A) Unique descriptive skills. | B) Good knowledge of readers' tastes. |
| C) Colourful world experiences. | D) Careful plotting and clueing. |
| 20. A) A peaceful setting. | B) A spacious room. |
| C) To be in the right mood. | D) To be entirely alone. |
| 21. A) They rely heavily on their own imagination. | B) They have experiences similar to the characters'. |
| C) They look at the world in a detached manner. | D) They are overwhelmed by their own emotions. |

Questions 22 to 25 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

- | | |
|---|---|
| 22. A) Good or bad, they are there to stay. | B) Like it or not, you have to use them. |
| C) Believe it or not, they have survived. | D) Gain or lose, they should be modernised. |
| 23. A) The frequent train delays. | B) The high train ticket fares. |
| C) The food sold on the trains. | D) The monopoly of British Railways. |
| 24. A) The low efficiency of their operation. | B) Competition from other modes of transport. |
| C) Constant complaints from passengers. | D) The passing of the new transport law. |
| 25. A) They will be de-nationalised. | B) They provide worse service. |
| C) They are fast disappearing. | D) They lose a lot of money. |

Section B

Directions: In this section, you will hear 3 short passages. At the end of each passage, you will hear some questions. Both the passage and the questions will be spoken only once. After you hear a question, you must choose the best answer from the four choices marked A), B), C) and D). Then mark the corresponding letter on Answer Sheet 2 with a single line through the centre.

Passage One

Questions 26 to 29 are based on the passage you have just heard.

- | | |
|--|--|
| 26. A) The whole Antarctic region will be submerged. | B) Some polar animals will soon become extinct. |
| C) Many coastal cities will be covered with water. | D) The earth will experience extreme weathers. |
| 27. A) How humans are to cope with global warming. | B) How unstable the West Antarctic ice sheet is. |
| C) How vulnerable the coastal cities are. | D) How polar ice impacts global weather. |
| 28. A) It collapsed at least once in the past 1.3 million years. | |

- B) It sits firmly on solid rock at the bottom of the ocean.
C) It melted at temperatures a bit higher than those of today.
D) It will have little impact on sea level when it breaks up.
29. A) The West Antarctic region was once an open ocean.
B) The West Antarctic ice sheet was about 7,000 feet thick.
C) The West Antarctic ice sheet was once floating ice.
D) The West Antarctic region used to be warmer than today.

Passage Two

Questions 30 to 32 are based on the passage you have just heard.

30. A) Whether we can develop social ties on the Internet.
B) Whether a deleted photo is immediately removed from the web.
C) Whether our blogs can be renewed daily.
D) Whether we can set up our own websites.
31. A) The number of visits they receive. B) The way they store data.
C) The files they have collected. D) The means they use to get information.
32. A) When the system is down. B) When new links are set up.
C) When the URL is reused. D) When the server is restarted.

Passage Three

Questions 33 to 35 are based on the passage you have just heard.

33. A) Some iced coffees have as many calories as a hot dinner.
B) Iced coffees sold by some popular chains are contaminated.
C) Drinking coffee after a meal is more likely to cause obesity.
D) Some brand-name coffees contain harmful substances.
34. A) Have some fresh fruit. B) Exercise at the gym.
C) Take a hot shower. D) Eat a hot dinner.
35. A) They could enjoy a happier family life. B) They could greatly improve their work efficiency.
C) Many cancer cases could be prevented. D) Many embarrassing situations could be avoided.

Part II 答案解析

11. 【答案】D 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：从对话中我们能推断出什么？根据听力原文 "This is one of our best and least expensive two-bedroom listings" (这是我们最好也最便宜的两居室房源之一)，可知女士在介绍房源、男士是在找公寓，D 项正确。
12. 【答案】A 【解析】细节理解题。问题问：女士急于知道什么？根据听力原文 "I'm wondering if the shots I took are as good as I thought" (我想知道我拍的照片是否和我预想的一样好)，可知她想知道照片冲洗出来的效果如何，A 项正确。
13. 【答案】D 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：男士的话是什么意思？根据听力原文 "I need to find a handle that matches but that shouldn't take too long" (我需要找一个与之匹配的把手，但那应该花不了太长时间)，可知箱子能及时修好，D 项正确。
14. 【答案】A 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：从对话中我们了解到男士的什么情况？根据听力原文 "For us it'll have to operate for long periods of time in very cold temperatures" (对我们来说，它必须能在极低的温度下长时间运行)，可知他需要一辆能在恶劣天气中使用的车，A 项正确。
15. 【答案】C 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：从对话中我们了解到女士的什么情况？根据听力原文 "But in the letter, I just told him frankly I could no longer live with his poor management and stupid decisions" (但在信中，我坦率地告诉他，我再也无法忍受他糟糕的管理和愚蠢的决定)，可知她已下定决心辞职，C 项正确。
16. 【答案】B 【解析】行动计划题。问题问：女士想做什么？根据听力原文 "I'd like to exchange the shirt... Maybe we can find something in cotton or silk" (我想换掉这件衬衫……也许我们能找一件棉质或丝质的)，可知她想换成其他材质的衬衫，B 项正确。
17. 【答案】A 【解析】细节理解题。问题问：这段对话最可能发生在什么地方？根据听力原文 "Did anyone happen to turn in a new handbag?" (有没有人碰巧交上来一个新提包？)，可知对话发生在失物招领处，A 项正确。
18. 【答案】C 【解析】行动计划题。问题问：女士打算怎么处理她的老房子？根据听力原文 "I'm thinking of turning it into a guest house" (我正在考虑把它改造成家庭旅馆)，可知她打算把它改建成旅馆，C 项正确。

19. 【答案】D【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 根据男士的说法, 写好一部经典侦探小说的关键是什么? 根据听力原文 "it must be so carefully plotted and so carefully clued" (它必须精心设计情节、精心埋下线索), 可知 D 项正确。
20. 【答案】D【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 男士在写书时主要需要什么? 根据听力原文 "I need to be completely alone" (我需要完全独处), 可知 D 项正确。
21. 【答案】C【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 关于作家, 男士说了什么? 根据听力原文 "The writer can stand aside from experience and look at it... There is this 'detachment'" (作家能够从经历中抽身出来观察它……存在着一种“超然”), 可知作家以一种超脱的方式看待世界, C 项正确。
22. 【答案】B【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 关于英国铁路, 女士说了什么? 根据听力原文 "There's only one railway system in the country... if you don't like a particular railway, you can't go and use another" (全国只有一套铁路系统……如果你不喜欢某条铁路, 你也没法去乘坐别的铁路), 可知无论喜不喜欢, 你都只能用它, B 项正确。
23. 【答案】D【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 一些给男士写信的人抱怨什么? 根据听力原文 "They say that if you didn't have monopoly, you wouldn't be able to do the things you do" (他们说, 如果不是因为垄断, 你们就做不了你们现在做的这些事), 可知他们抱怨英国铁路的垄断, D 项正确。
24. 【答案】B【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 男士说是什么威胁着铁路的生存? 根据听力原文 "modes of transport are all around... The car arrived. The car is here to stay" (各种交通方式无处不在……汽车出现了, 而且会一直存在下去), 可知是来自其他交通方式的竞争, B 项正确。
25. 【答案】D【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 关于其他国家的铁路, 男士说了什么? 根据听力原文 "The French railways lose 1 billion pounds a year. The German railways, 2 billion pounds a year" (法国铁路每年亏损 10 亿英镑, 德国铁路每年亏损 20 亿英镑), 可知它们损失大量金钱, D 项正确。
26. 【答案】C【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 根据短文, 全球变暖最可怕的威胁之一是什么? 根据听力原文 "raising sea level so much that coastal cities from New York to Los Angeles to Shanghai will be flooded" (使海平面升高如此之多, 以致从纽约到洛杉矶再到上海的沿海城市都将被淹没), 可知许多沿海城市将被水淹没, C 项正确。
27. 【答案】B【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 科学家们在什么问题上有分歧? 根据听力原文 "Antarctic experts disagree strongly on just how unstable it is" (南极专家们就它到底有多不稳定存在严重分歧), 可知他们在西南极冰盖有多不稳定上有分歧, B 项正确。
28. 【答案】A【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 关于西南极冰盖的最新信息是什么? 根据听力原文 "new evidence reveals that all or most of the Antarctic ice sheet collapsed at least once during the past 1.3 million years" (新证据显示, 全部或大部分南极冰盖在过去 130 万年里至少崩塌过一次), 可知 A 项正确。
29. 【答案】A【解析】推理判断题。问题问: 科学家们的最新发现表明了什么? 根据听力原文 "They found fossils of microscopic marine plants which suggest that the region was once open ocean not solid ice" (他们发现了微型海洋植物化石, 这表明该地区曾经是开阔的海洋, 而非坚固的冰层), 可知 A 项正确。
30. 【答案】B【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 说话者让我们尝试做什么? 根据听力原文 "Take a photo and upload it to Facebook... then delete it. Come back a month later and see if the link works" (拍一张照片上传到 Facebook……然后删除它, 一个月后再回来看看链接是否还能打开), 可知是检验被删除的照片是否立即从网上消失, B 项正确。
31. 【答案】B【解析】原因目的题。问题问: 是什么导致一些网站不能立即删除照片? 根据听力原文 "The problem relates to the way data is stored on large websites" (问题与大型网站存储数据的方式有关), 可知 B 项正确。
32. 【答案】C【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 据该公司称, Facebook 上无用的数据最终何时会消失? 根据听力原文 "data may hang around until the URL in question is reused" (数据可能会一直保留到相关 URL 被重新使用为止), 可知当 URL 被重新使用时数据才会消失, C 项正确。
33. 【答案】A【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 一些健康专家给出了什么警告? 根据听力原文 "some iced coffees contain as many calories as a hot dinner" (一些冰咖啡所含的热量与一顿热晚餐一样多), 可知 A 项正确。
34. 【答案】B【解析】建议题。问题问: 作者建议人们喝完冰咖啡后做什么? 根据听力原文 "Better skip dinner or hit the gym afterwards" (之后最好不吃晚餐或去健身房锻炼), 可知 B 项正确。

35. 【答案】C 【解析】细节理解题。问题问：根据 WCRF，如果英国人保持正常体重，他们能期待什么？根据听力原文 "The WCRF has estimated that 19,000 cancers a year in Britain could be prevented if people lost their excess weight" (WCRF 估计，如果人们减掉多余的体重，英国每年可预防 19000 例癌症)，可知许多癌症病例可以避免，C 项正确。

Part III 听力原文

Section A

11. W: This is one of our best and least expensive two-bedroom listings. It's located in a quiet building and it's close to bus lines.

M: That may be true. But look at it, it's awful, the paint has peeled off and carpet is worn and the stove is ancient.

Q: What can we infer from the conversation?

12. M: The pictures we took at the botanical garden should be ready tomorrow.

W: I can't wait to see them, I'm wondering if the shots I took are as good as I thought.

Q: What is the woman eager to know?

13. W: The handle of the suitcase is broken. Can you have it fixed by next Tuesday?

M: Let me see, I need to find a handle that matches but that shouldn't take too long.

Q: What does the man mean?

14. M: This truck looks like what I need but I'm worried about maintenance. For us it'll have to operate for long periods of time in very cold temperatures.

W: We have several models that are especially adaptive for extreme conditions. Would you like to see them?

Q: What do we learn about the man from the conversation?

15. M: I think your boss would be very upset when he gets your letter of resignation.

W: That may be so. But in the letter, I just told him frankly I could no longer live with his poor management and stupid decisions.

Q: What do we learn about the woman?

16. W: I'd like to exchange the shirt. I've learned that the person bought it for allergic to wool.

M: Maybe we can find something in cotton or silk. Please come this way.

Q: What does the woman want to do?

17. M: Excuse me, Miss? Did anyone happen to turn in a new handbag? You know, it's a birthday gift for my wife.

W: Let me see. Oh, we've got quite a lot of women's bags here. Can you give me more detailed information, such as the color, the size and the trademark?

Q: Where does this conversation most probably take place?

18. M: What are you going to do with the old house you inherited from your grandfather?

W: I once intended to sell it, but now, I'm thinking of turning it into a guest house, because it's still a solid structure.

Q: What does the woman plan to do with her old house?

Long Conversation One

W: When you write a novel, do you know where you're going, Dr. James?

M: Yes, you must, really, if you're writing the classical detective story, because it must be so carefully plotted and so carefully clued. I have schemes. I have charts. I have diagrams. It doesn't mean to say that I always get it right, but I do plan before I begin writing. But what is so fascinating is how a book changes during the process of writing. It seems to me that creative writing is a process of revelation, really, rather than of creativity in the ordinary sense.

W: When you're planning the basic structure, do you like to go away to be sure that you're by yourself?

M: I need to be by myself certainly, absolutely. I can't even bear anybody else in the house. I don't mind much where I am as long as I've got enough space to write, but I need to be completely alone.

W: Is that very important to you?

M: Oh, yes. I've never been lonely in all my life.

W: How extraordinary! Never?

M: No, never.

W: You're very lucky. Someone once said that there's a bit of ice at the heart of every writer.

M: Yes. I think this is true. The writer can stand aside from experience and look at it, watch it happening. There is this 'detachment' and I realize that there are obviously experiences which would overwhelm everyone. But very often, a writer can appear to stand aside, and this detachment makes people feel there's a bit of ice in the heart.

Questions 19 to 21 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

19. What is the key to write a good classical detective story according to the man?

20. What does the man mainly need when working on a book?

21. What does the man say about writers?

Long Conversation Two

W: There is an element there about competition then, isn't there? Because British railways are a nationalized industry. There's only one railway system in the country. If you don't like a particular kind of big beans, you can go and buy another. But if you don't like a particular railway, you can't go and use another.

M: Some people who write to me say this. They say that if you didn't have monopoly, you wouldn't be able to do the things you do. Well, I don't think we do anything deliberately to upset our customers. We have particular problems. Since 1946, when the Transport Act came in, we were nationalized.

W: Do you think that's a good thing? Has it been a good thing for the railways, do you think, to be nationalized?

M: Oh I think so, yes. Because in general, modes of transport are all around. Let's face the fact. The car arrived. The car is here to stay. There is no question about that.

W: So what are you saying then? Is it if the railways happen being nationalized, they would simply have disappeared?

M: Oh, I think they would have. They're disappearing fast in America. Er, the French railways lose 1 billion pounds a year. The German railways, 2 billion pounds a year. But you see, those governments are preparing to pour money into the transport system to keep it going.

W: So in a sense, you cope between two extremes. On the one hand, you're trying not to lose too much money. And on the other hand, you've got to provide the best service.

M: Yes, you are right.

Questions 22 to 25 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

- 22. What does the woman say about British railways?
- 23. What do some people who write to the man complain about?
- 24. What does the man say threatens the existence of railways?
- 25. What does the man say about railways in other countries?

Section B

Passage One

Among global warming's most frightening threats is the prediction that the polar ice-caps will melt, raising sea level so much that coastal cities from New York to Los Angeles to Shanghai will be flooded. Scientists agree that the key player in this scenario is the West Antarctic ice sheet, a Brazil-size mass of frozen water that is as much as 7,000 feet thick. Unlike floating ice shelves which have little impact on sea level when they break up, the ice sheet is anchored to bedrock and will raise the sea surface. Surrounded by open ocean, it is also vulnerable, but Antarctic experts disagree strongly on just how unstable it is. Now, new evidence reveals that all or most of the Antarctic ice sheet collapsed at least once during the past 1.3 million years, a period when global temperatures probably were not significantly higher than they are today. And the ice sheet was assumed to have been stable. In geological time, a million years is recent history. The proof, which was published last week in Science, comes from a team of scientists from Uppsala University in Sweden and California Institute of Technology who drilled deep holes near the edge of ice sheet, within samples collected from the solid substances lying beneath the ice. They found fossils of microscopic marine plants which suggest that the region was once open ocean not solid ice. As Herman Engelheart, a co-author from the California Institute of Technology says, "The West Antarctic ice sheet disappeared once and can disappear again."

Questions 26 to 29 are based on the passage you have just heard.

- 26. What is one of the most frightening threats of global warming according to the passage?
- 27. What did scientists disagree on?
- 28. What is the latest information revealed about the West Antarctic ice sheet?
- 29. What do the scientists' latest findings suggest?

Passage Two

It's always fun to write about research that you can actually try out for yourself.

Try this: Take a photo and upload it to Facebook, then after a day or so, note what the URL link to the picture is and then delete it. Come back a month later and see if the link works. Chances are: It will. Facebook isn't alone here. Researchers at Cambridge University have found that nearly half of the social networking sites don't immediately delete pictures when a user requests they be removed. In general, photo-centric websites like Flickr were found to be better at quickly removing deleted photos upon request.

Why do "deleted" photos stick around so long? The problem relates to the way data is stored on large websites: While your personal computer only keeps one copy of a file, large-scale services like Facebook rely on what are called content delivery networks to manage data and distribution. It's a complex system wherein data is copied to multiple intermediate devices, usually to speed up access to files when millions of people are trying to access the service at the same time. But because changes aren't reflected across the content delivery networks immediately, ghost copies of files tend to linger for days or weeks.

In the case of Facebook, the company says data may hang around until the URL in question is reused, which is usually "after a short period of time", though obviously that time can vary considerably.

Questions 30 to 32 are based on the passage you have just heard.

30. What does the speaker ask us to try out?
31. What accounts for the failure of some websites to remove photos immediately?
32. When will the unwanted data eventually disappear from Facebook according to the company?

Passage Three

Enjoying an iced coffee? Better skip dinner or hit the gym afterwards, with a cancer charity warning that some iced coffees contain as many calories as a hot dinner.

The World Cancer Research Fund (WCRF) conducted a survey of iced coffees sold by some popular chains in Britain including Starbucks, Caffè Nero and Costa Coffee to gauge the calories as studies increasingly link obesity with cancer.

The worst offender - a coffee from Starbucks -- had 561 calories. Other iced coffees contained more than 450 calories and the majority had an excess of 200.

Health experts advise that the average woman should consume about 2,000 calories a day and a man about 2,500 calories to maintain a healthy weight. Dieters aim for 1,000 to 1,500 calories a day.

"The fact that there is an iced coffee on the market with over a quarter of a woman's daily calories allowance is alarming," Dr Rachel Thompson, science programme manager at London-based WCRF, said in a widely-reported statement.

"This is the amount of calories you might expect to have in an evening meal, not in a drink." The WCRF has estimated that 19,000 cancers a year in Britain could be prevented if people lost their excess weight with growing evidence that excess body fat increases the risk of various cancers. "If you are having these types of coffee regularly then they will increase the chances of you becoming overweight, which in turn increases your risk of developing cancer, as well as other diseases such as heart disease," she said.

Questions 33 to 35 are based on the passage you have just heard.

33. What warning did some health experts give?
34. What does the author suggest people do after they have an iced coffee?
35. What could British people expect if they maintain a normal body weight according to the WCRF?

Section A

11. M: I left 20 pages here to copy. Here is the receipt.

W: I'm sorry, sir. But we're a little behind. Could you come back in a few minutes?

Q: What does the woman mean?

12. W: I hope you're not too put out with me for the delay. I have to stop by friends' home to pick up a book on my way here.

M: Well, that's not a big deal. But you might at least phone if you know you're going to keep someone waiting.

Q: What do we learn about the woman from the conversation?

13. W: Mark is the best candidate for chairman of the student union, isn't he?

M: Well, that guy won't be able to win the election unless he gets some majority vote from women students. And I'm not sure about that.

Q: What does the man mean?

14. M: Sorry to have kept you waiting, Madam. I've located your luggage. It was left behind in Paris and won't arrive until later this evening.

W: Oh, I can't believe this. Have it delivered to my hotel then, I guess.

Q: What happened to the woman's luggage?

15. W: I don't think we have enough information for our presentation, but we have to give it tomorrow. There doesn't seem to be much we can do about it.

M: Yeah, at this point we'll all have to make do with what we've got.

Q: What does the man suggest they do?

16. M: I am taking this great course - Psychology of Language, it's really interesting. Since you are a psychology major, you should sign up for it.

W: Actually I tried to do that, but they told me I have to take language studies first.

Q: What do we learn from the conversation?

17. W: Can you believe the way Larry was talking to his roommate? No wonder they don't get along.

M: Well, maybe Larry was just reacting to something his roommate said. There are two sides to every story you know.

Q: What does the man imply about Larry and his roommate?

18. M: We don't have the resources to stop those people from buying us out unless a miracle happens. This may be the end of us.

W: I still have hope we can get help from the bank. After all we don't need that much money.

Q: What do we learn about the speakers from the conversation?

Long Conversation One

W: You know I've often wondered why people laugh at the picture of a big belly businessman slipping on a banana skin and falling on his bottom. We are supposed to feel sorry for them.

M: Actually, Laura, I think we laugh because we are glad it didn't happen to us. But of course there is also a kind of humorous satisfaction in seeing somebody self-important making a fool of themselves.

W: Yes, and there are a lot of jokes about people who are too fat or physically handicapped, you know, deaf, or short-sighted things like that. After all, it's not really funny to be like that.

M: Oh, I think that's because we're embarrassed. We don't know how to cope with the situation. Perhaps we are even a bit frightened we may get like that, so we laugh.

W: What about the custard pie routine?

M: What do you mean 'custard pie routine'?

W: You know, all those old films where someone gets so outraged with his boss, he picks up a custard pie and plasters it all over the other person's face.

M: That never makes me laugh much, because you can guess what's going to happen. But a lot of people still find it laughable. It must be because it's the sort of thing we'd all love to do once in a while and never quite have the courage to.

W: I had an old aunt who used to throw cups of tea at people when she was particularly irritated. She said it relieved her feelings.

M: It must have been a bit expensive.

W: Not really. She took care never to throw her best china.

Questions 19 to 22 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

19. Why does the man say we laugh when we see some self-important people making fools of themselves?

20. Why do some people joke about those who are fat or handicapped according to the man?

21. Why do many people find it funny to see someone throwing a custard pie on their boss's face?

22. Why does the man's aunt throw cups of tea at people occasionally?

Long Conversation Two

W: Your name is Sanjay Kumar, is that correct?

M: Yes, madam.

W: You claim you are traveling on a scholarship from Delhi University.

M: That's right.

W: Now it seems that a handgun was found in your luggage. Do you admit that?

M: Yes, but...

W: According to the statement you made, you had never seen the handgun before it was found in your bag. Do you still maintain that?

M: But it's true. I swear it.

W: Now, you do realize Mr. Kumar that to bring a handgun into Hong Kong without proper authorization is a serious offense.

M: But I didn't bring it. I ... I mean I didn't know anything about it. It wasn't there when I left Delhi. My bags were searched. It was part of the airport security check.

W: Maybe so, but someone managed to get that handgun onto the aircraft or it couldn't have been there.

M: Someone but not me.

W: Tell me, where was your personal bag during the flight?

M: I had it down by my feet between me and the man in the next seat.

M: He was the only person who could have opened my bag while I was asleep. It must have been him.

W: I see. Have you any idea who this man was?

M: He told me his name, Alfred Foster. He was very friendly, after I woke up that is. He hadn't spoken before.

W: Alfred Foster, we can check that on the passenger list.

M: He said he had a car coming to meet him. He offered me a lift.

W: Oh, Why should he do that?

M: So he can get his handgun back, that's why. Please find him, Madam.

Questions 23 to 25 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

23. What is Sanjay Kumar suspected of?

24. What do we know about Alfred Foster?

25. What does Sanjay Kumar ask the woman to do finally?

Section B

Passage One

Everyone is looking for a good investment these days. And with stocks, currencies and companies all crashing, some are finding that taking the trip of a lifetime is actually a smart move right now. Prices are good, crowds are fewer and the dividends like expanded worldview, lifelong memories, and the satisfaction of boosting the global economy — can't be easily snatched away. Sylvia and Paul Custer son, a retired couple from Cambridge, England, recently took a 16-day vacation to Namibia, where they went on bird-watching excursions. Later this year, they are planning a trip to Patagonia. "We're using our capital now," says Sylvia, "And why not? We're not getting any interest in the bank. If it's a place we really want to go, then we will go. We may as well travel while we're fit and healthy."

Some travel agents are thriving in spite of the economy. "We've had more people booking in the first quarter of this year than last," says Hubert Moniteau, founder of Solana Travel, which is planning to introduce a new program of longer adventure trips, including polar expeditions and cruises in the Galápagos. "We're hearing things like, 'We don't know what the situation will be in six months so let's travel now'", Ashley Tuft, managing director of the U.K. tour operator Explore has been surprised to see an increase in last-minute bookings of high-priced trips to such places as India, Bhutan and Nepal. "It seems people would rather give up something else than the big trip," he says. Travel has become a necessity. It's just how we travel that is changing.

Questions 26 to 28 are based on the passage you have just heard.

26. According to the speaker, why are some people willing to spend their money on travel these days?
27. What is Solana Travel planning to do, according to its founder?
28. According to Ashley Tuft, managing director of Explore, what is changing now with regard to travels?

Passage Two

Somehow the old male and female stereotypes no longer fit. Men and women in this country haven't been fulfilling their traditional roles for some time now. And there seem to be fewer and fewer differences between the sexes. For instance, even though more women than men are still homemakers without paying jobs, women have been taking over more responsibility in the business world, earning higher salaries than ever before and entering fields of work that used to be exclusively male areas. At office meetings and in group discussions, they might speak up more often, express strong opinions and come up with more creative and practical ideas than their male colleagues. Several days ago, my 23-year-old daughter came to me with some important news. Not only had she found the highest paying job of her career, but she'd also accepted a date with the most charming man she'd ever met.

"Really?" I responded, "tell me about them."

"Receptionist in an attorney's office and a welder at a construction site." She answered in a matter-of-fact way. The interesting thing is my daughter's date is the receptionist and my daughter is the welder. The old stereotypes of men's and women's work have been changing more quickly than ever before, except perhaps in my own home.

"Who's going to mow the lawn?" I asked my husband this morning.

"Oh, I will," he answered politely. "That's men's work."

"What?" Irritated, I raised my voice. "That's a ridiculous stereotype. I'll show you who can do the best job on the lawn."

The work took 3 hours and I did it all myself.

Questions 29 to 31 are based on the passage you have just heard.

29. What is the speaker mainly talking about?
30. What might women do at office meetings nowadays according to the speaker?
31. Why did the speaker mow the lawn herself that morning?

Passage Three

Florence Hayes is a journalist for the Green Ville Journal, the daily newspaper in town. Specifically she covers crime in the Green Ville area. This responsibility takes her to many different places every week — the police station, the court and the hospital. Most of the crimes that she writes about fall into two groups: violent crimes and crimes against property. There isn't much violent crime in a small town like Green Ville, or at least not as much as in the large urban areas. But assaults often occur on Friday and Saturday nights, near the bars downtown. There are also one or two rapes on campus every semester. Florence is very interested in this type of crime and tries to write a long article about each one. She expects that this will make women more careful when they walk around Green Ville alone at night.

Fortunately, there are usually no murders in Green Ville. Crimes against property make up most of Miss Hayes' reporting. They range from minor cases of deliberate damaging of things to much more serious offenses, such as car accidents involving drunk drivers or bank robberies. But Florence has to report all of these violations from the thief who took typewriters from every unlocked room in the dormitory to the thief who stole one million dollars worth of art work from the university museum. Miss Hayes enjoys working for a newspaper but she sometimes gets unhappy about all the crime she has to report. She would prefer to start writing about something more interesting and less unpleasant such as local news or politics, maybe next year.

Questions 32 to 35 are based on the passage you have just heard.

32. What is Florence Hayes' main responsibility as a journalist?
33. What does the speaker say about security in Greenville?
34. What do we learn about crimes against property in the Greenville area?
35. What would Florence Hayes prefer to do?

Part III 听力原文

Section A

11. M: I don't know what to do. I have to drive to Chicago next Friday for my cousin's wedding, but I have got a Psychology test to prepare for.

W: Why don't you record your notes so you can study on the way?

Q: What does the woman suggest the man do?

12. M: Professor Wright, you may have to find another student to play this role, the lines are so long and I simply can't remember them all.

W: Look, Tony. It is still a long time before the first show. I don't expect you to know all the lines yet. Just keep practicing.

Q: What do we learn from the conversation?

13. M: Hello, this is Dr. Martin from the Emergency Department. I have a male patient with a fractured ankle.

W: Oh, we have one bed available in ward 3, send him here and I will take care of him.

Q: What are the speakers talking about?

14. W: Since Simon will graduate this May, the school paper needs a new editor. So if you are interested, I will be happy to nominate you.

M: Thanks for considering me. But the baseball team is starting up a new season. And I'm afraid I have a lot on my hands.

Q: What does the man mean?

15. W: Have you heard the news that James Smell has resigned his post as prime minister?

M: Well, I got it from the headlines this morning. It's reported that he made this decision at the last cabinet meeting.

Q: What do we learn about James Smell?

16. W: The morning paper says the space shuttle is taking off at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

M: Yeah, it's just another one of this year's routine missions. The first mission was undertaken a decade ago and broadcast live then worldwide.

Q: What can we infer from this conversation?

17. M: We do a lot of camping in the mountains. What would you recommend for two people?

W: You'd probably be better off with the four-wheel drive vehicle. We have several off-road trucks in stock, both new and used.

Q: Where does the conversation most probably take place?

18. W: I hear you did some serious shopping this past weekend.

M: Yeah, the speakers of my old stereo finally gave out and there was no way to repair them.

Q: What did the man do over the weekend?

Long Conversation One

W: Now, could you tell me where the idea for the business first came from?

M: Well, the original shop was opened by a retired printer by the name of Gruby. Mr Gruby being left-handed himself, thought of the idea to try to promote a few products for left-handers.

W: And how did he then go about actually setting up the business?

M: Well, he looked for any left-handed products that might already be on the market which were very few. And then contacted the manufacturers with the idea of having products produced for him, mainly in the scissors range to start with.

W: Right. So you do commission some part of your stock.

M: Yes, very much so. About 75 percent of our stock is specially made for us.

W: And the rest of it?

M: Hmm, the rest of it now, some 25, 30 years after Mr. Gruby's initial efforts, there are more left-handed products actually on the market. Manufacturers are now beginning to see that there is a market for left-handed products.

W: And what's the range of your stock?

M: The range consists of a variety of scissors from children scissors to scissors for tailors, hairdressers etc. We also have a large range of kitchenware.

W: What's the competition like? Do you have quite a lot of competition?

M: There are other people in the business now in specialists, but only as mail-order outlets. But we have a shop here in central London plus a mail-order outlet. And we are without any doubt the largest supplier of the left-handed items.

Questions 19 to 21 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

19. What kind of business is the man engaged in?
20. What does the man say about his stock of products?
21. What does the man say about other people in his line of business?

Long Conversation Two

M: Can we make you an offer? We would like to run the campaign for four extra weeks.

W: Well, can we summarize the problem from my point of view? First of all, the campaign was late. It missed two important trade fairs. The ads also did not appear in key magazines. As a result, the campaign failed. Do you accept that summary of what happened?

M: Well, the delay wasn't entirely our fault. You did in fact make late changes to the specifications of the advertisements.

W: Uh, actually, you were late with the initial proposals so you had very little time and in fact, we only asked for small changes.

M: Well whatever, can we repeat our offer to run the campaign for 4 extra weeks?

W: That's not really the point. The campaign missed two key trade fairs. Because of this, we are asking you either to repeat the campaign next year for free, or we only pay 50% of the fee for this year.

M: Could we suggest a 20% reduction to the fee together with the four week extension to the campaign?

W: We are not happy. We lost business.

M: I think we both made mistakes. The responsibility is on both sides.

W: Ok, let's suggest a new solution. How about a 40% cut in fee, or a free repeat campaign?

M: Well, let's take a break, we're not getting very far. Perhaps we should think about this.

Questions 22 to 25 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

22. What do we learn about the man's company?
23. Why was the campaign delayed according to the man?
24. What does the woman propose as a solution to the problem?
25. What does the man suggest they do at the end of the conversation?

Section B

Passage One

The University of Tennessee's Walters Life Sciences building is a model animal facility, spotlessly clean, careful in obtaining prior approval for experiments from an animal care committee. Of the 15,000 mice housed there in a typical year, most give their lives for humanity. These are good mice and as such won the protection of the animal care committee. At any given time however some mice escape and run free. These mice are pests. They can disrupt experiments with the bacteria organisms they carry. They are bad mice and must be captured and destroyed. Usually, this is accomplished by means of sticky traps, a kind of fly paper on which they become increasingly stuck. But the real point of the cautionary tale, says animal behaviorist Herzau, is that the labels we put on things can affect our moral responses to them. Using stick traps or the more deadly snap traps would be deemed unacceptable for good mice. Yet the killing of bad mice requires no prior approval. Once the research animal hits the floor and becomes an escapee, says Herzau, its moral standard is instantly diminished. In Herzau's own home, there was a more ironic example when his young son's pet mouse Willy died recently, it was accorded a tearful ceremonial burial in the garden. Yet even as they mourned Willy, says Herzau, he and his wife were setting snap traps to kill the pest mice in their kitchen with the bare change in labels from pet to pest, the kitchen mice obtained totally different moral standards.

Questions 26 to 29 are based on the passage you have just heard.

26. What does the passage say about most of the mice used for experiments?
27. Why did the so-called bad mice have to be captured and destroyed?
28. When are mice killed without prior approval?
29. Why does the speaker say what the Herzaus did at home is ironical?

Passage Two

There are roughly three New Yorks. There is, first, the New York of the man or woman who was born here, who takes the city for granted and accepts its size and its turbulence as natural and inevitable. Second, there is the New York of the commuter — the city that is swallowed up by locusts each day and spat out each night. Third, there is the New York of the person who was born somewhere else and came to New York in quest of something. Of these three trembling cities the greatest is the last, the city of final destination, the city that has a goal. It is this third city that accounts for New York's high-strung disposition, its poetical deportment, its dedication to the arts, and its incomparable achievements. Commuters give the city its tidal restlessness; natives give it solidity and continuity; but the settlers give it passion. And whether it is a farmer arriving from Italy to set up a small grocery store in a slum, or a young girl arriving from a small town in Mississippi to escape the indignity of being observed by her neighbors, or a boy arriving from the Corn Belt with a manuscript in his suitcase and a pain in his heart, it makes no difference: each embraces New York with the intense excitement of first love, each absorbs New York with the fresh eyes of an adventurer, each generates heat and light to dwarf the Consolidated Edison Company.

Questions 30 to 32 are based on the passage you have just heard.

30. What does the speaker say about the natives of New York?
31. What does the speaker say commuters give to New York?
32. What do we learn about the settlers of New York?

Passage Three

"If you ask me, television is unhealthy", I said to my roommate Walter, as I walked into the living room. "While you are sitting passively in front of the TV set, your muscles are turning to fat, your complexion is fading, and your eyesight is being ruined."

"Shh~" Walter put his finger to his lips, "This is an intriguing murder mystery."

"Really?" I said. "But you know, the brain is destroyed by TV viewing. Creativity is killed by that box. And people are kept from communicating with one another. From my point of view, TV is the cause of the declining interest in school and the failure of our entire educational system."

"Ah ha, I can't see your point." Walter said softly. "But see? The woman on the witness stand in this story is being questioned about the murder that was committed one hundred years ago."

Ignoring his enthusiastic description of the plot, I went on with my argument. "As I see it," I explained, "not only are most TV programs badly written and produced, but viewers are also manipulated by the mass media. As far as I am concerned, TV watchers are cut off from reality, from nature, from other people, from life itself!" I was confident in my ability to persuade him.

After a short silence, my roommate said, "Anyway, I've been planning to watch the football game. I am going to change the channel."

"Don't touch that dial!" I shouted, "I want to find out how the mystery turns out!"

I am not sure I got my point across to him.

Questions 33 to 35 are based on the passage you have just heard.

33. As the speaker walked into the living room, what was being shown on TV?
34. What does the speaker say about watching television?
35. What can we say about the speaker?

26. 【答案】C 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 关于拉塞尔·法齐奥我们了解到什么? 根据听力原文 "Russell Fazio, an Ohio State psychology professor who has studied interracial roommates there and at Indiana University" (拉塞尔·法齐奥是俄亥俄州立大学的心理学教授, 研究过跨种族室友间的关系), 可知 C 项正确。

27. 【答案】B 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 根据法齐奥的研究, 谁从与白人室友同住中受益? 根据听力原文 "black freshmen who came to college with high standardized test scores earned better grades if they had a white roommate" (标准化考试成绩较高的黑人新生如果有白人室友, 成绩会更好), 可知 B 项正确。

28. 【答案】D 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 研究发现俄亥俄州立大学随机分配的跨种族室友怎么样? 根据听力原文 "randomly assigned interracial roommates at Ohio State broke up before the end of the quarter about twice as often as same-race roommates" (俄亥俄州立大学随机分配的跨种族室友在学季结束前散伙的频率约是同种族室友的两倍), 可知 D 项正确。

29. 【答案】A 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 法齐奥博士发现一起住了 10 周的跨种族室友有什么有趣之处? 根据听力原文 "if the relationship managed to continue for just 10 weeks, we could see an improvement in racial attitudes" (如果这种关系能维持 10 周, 我们就能看到种族态度的改善), 可知 A 项正确。

30. 【答案】D 【解析】观点态度题。问题问: 米罗诺夫博士如何看待生物工程培养肉? 根据听力原文 "It's a product he believes could help solve future global food crises" (他认为这种产品能帮助解决未来的全球粮食危机), 可知 D 项正确。

31. 【答案】C 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 米罗诺夫博士对他们研究的经费怎么说? 根据听力原文 "NASA funded it only briefly... We don't even have $1 million" (美国宇航局只是短暂资助过……我们甚至连 100 万美元都没有), 可知 C 项正确。

32. 【答案】D 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 尼古拉斯·吉诺维斯对如今我们吃的许多产品说了什么? 根据听力原文 "there are a lot of products that we eat today that are considered natural that are produced in a similar manner" (我们如今吃的许多被认为天然的产品也是以类似方式生产的), 可知 D 项正确。

33. 【答案】D 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 关于伯纳德·杰克逊我们了解到什么? 根据听力原文 "Jackson spent five years in prison after a jury wrongly convicted him of raping two women" (陪审团错误地判定杰克逊犯有强奸两名女性的罪行后, 他在监狱中度过了五年), 可知 D 项正确。

34. 【答案】C 【解析】原因目的题。问题问: 直接导致杰克逊被判刑的是什么? 根据听力原文 "The jury believed the testimony of the two victims, who positively identified Jackson as the man who had attacked them" (陪审团相信了两名受害者的证词, 她们都肯定地指认杰克逊就是袭击她们的人), 可知 C 项正确。

35. 【答案】D【解析】主旨大意题。问题问: 我们从杰克逊的案件中得到什么教训? 根据听力原文 "Many factors influence the accuracy of eyewitness testimony" (许多因素都会影响目击者证词的准确性), 可知 D 项正确。

Part III 听力原文

Section A

11. W: Did you hear that Anna needs to stay in bed for 4 weeks?

M: Yeah. She injured her spine in a fall and a doctor told her to lie flat on her back for a month so it can mend.

Q: What can we learn from the conversation?

12. M: A famous Russian ballet is coming to town next weekend. But I can't find a ticket anywhere.

W: Don't be upset. My sister just happened to have one and she can't go since she has got some sort of conflict in her schedule.

Q: What does the woman mean?

13. W: Hello, my bathroom drain is blocked and I'm giving a party tonight. Do you think you could come and fix it for me?

M: Sorry, ma'am. I'm pretty busy right now. But I can put you on my list.

Q: What does the man mean?

14. W: We're taking up a collection to buy a gift for Gemma. She'll have been with the company 25 years next week.

M: Well, count me in. But I'm a bit short on cash now. When do you need it?

Q: What is the man going to do?

15. W: Tony's mother has invited me to dinner. Do you think I should tell her in advance that I'm a vegetarian?

M: Of course. I think she'd appreciate it. Imagine how you both feel if she fixed the turkey dinner or something.

Q: What does the man suggest the woman do?

16. M: Just look at this newspaper, nothing but robberies, suicide and murder. Do you still believe people are basically good?

W: Of course. But many papers lack interest in reporting something positive like peace, love and generosity.

Q: What are the speakers talking about?

17. M: I can't believe so many people want to sign up for the Korea Development Conference. We will have to limit the number of participants.

W: Yeah, otherwise we won't have room for the equipment.

Q: What are the speakers going to do?

18. W: Hi, I'm calling about the ad for the one bedroom apartment.

M: Perfect timing! The person who was supposed to rent it just backed down to take a room on campus.

Q: What do we learn from the conversation?

Long Conversation One

W: One of the most interesting experiments with dolphins must be one done by Doctor Jarvis Bastian. What he tried to do was to teach a male dolphin called Bass and a female called Doris to communicate with each other across a solid barrier.

M: So how did he do it exactly?

W: Well, first of all, he kept the two dolphins together in the same tank and taught them to press levers whenever they saw a light. The levers were fitted to the side of the tank next to each other. If the light flashed on and off several times, the dolphins were supposed to press the left-hand lever followed by the right-hand one. If the light was kept steady, the dolphins were supposed to press the levers in reverse order. Whenever they responded correctly, they were rewarded with fish.

M: Sounds terribly complicated.

W: Well, that was the first stage. In the second stage, Doctor Bastian separated the dolphins into two tanks. They could still hear one another, but they couldn't actually see each other. The levers and light were set up in exactly the same way except that this time it was only Doris who could see the light indicating which lever to press first. But in order to get their fish, both dolphins had to press the levers in the correct order. This meant of course that Doris had to tell Bass whether it was a flashing light or whether it was a steady light.

M: So did it work?

W: Well, amazingly enough, the dolphins achieved a 100% success rate.

Questions 19 to 21 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

19. What is the purpose of Doctor Jarvis Bastian's experiment?

20. What were the dolphins supposed to do when they saw a steady light?
21. How did the second stage of the experiment differ from the first stage?

Long Conversation Two

W: This week's program Up Your Street takes you to Harrogate, a small town in Yorkshire. Harrogate became a fashionable resort during Victorian times, when people came to take a bath in the mineral waters. Today, few people come to visit the town for its mineral waters. Instead, Harrogate has become a popular town for people to retire to. Its clean air, attractive parks, and the absence of any industry, make this an ideal spot for people looking for a quiet life. Now, to tell us more about Harrogate, I have with me Tom Percival, President of the Chamber of Commerce. Tom, one of the things visitors notice about Harrogate is the large area of open park land right down into the middle of the town. Can you tell us more about it?

M: Yes, certainly. The area is called the Stray.

W: Why the Stray?

M: It's called that because in the old days, people let their cattle stray on the area, which was common land.

W: Oh, I see.

M: Then, we've had changes in farming and in land ownership. The Stray became part of the land owned by the town.

W: And is it protected?

M: Oh, yes, indeed. As a special law, no one can build anything on the Stray. It's protected forever.

W: So it will always be park land?

M: That's right. As you can see, some of the Stray is used for sports activities.

W: I believe it looks lovely in the spring.

M: Yes, it does. There are spring flowers on the old trees, and people visit the town just to see the flowers.

Questions 22 to 25 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

22. Where does this conversation most probably take place?
23. What do we learn about modern Harrogate?
24. What does the man say about the area called the Stray?
25. What attracts people most in the Stray during the spring time?

Section B

Passage One

Russell Fazio, an Ohio State psychology professor who has studied interracial roommates there and at Indiana University, discovered an intriguing academic effect. In a study analyzing data on thousands of Ohio State freshmen who lived in dorms, he found that black freshmen who came to college with high standardized test scores earned better grades if they had a white roommate — even if the roommate's test scores were low. The roommate's race had no effect on the grades of white students or low-scoring black students. Perhaps, the study speculated, having a white roommate helps academically prepared black students adjust to a predominantly white university. That same study found that randomly assigned interracial roommates at Ohio State broke up before the end of the quarter about twice as often as same-race roommates.

Because interracial roommate relationships are often problematic, Dr. Fazio said, many students would like to move out, but university housing policies may make it hard to leave.

"At Indiana University, where housing was not so tight, more interracial roommates split up," he said. "Here at Ohio State, where housing was tight, they were told to work it out. The most interesting thing we found was that if the relationship managed to continue for just 10 weeks, we could see an improvement in racial attitudes."

Dr. Fazio's Indiana study found that three times as many randomly assigned interracial roommates were no longer living together at the end of the semester, compared with white roommates. The interracial roommates spent less time together, and had fewer joint activities than the white pairs.

Questions 26 to 29 are based on the passage you have just heard.

26. What do we know about Russell Fazio?
27. Who benefited from living with a white roommate according to Fazio's study?
28. What did the study find about randomly assigned interracial roommates at Ohio State University?
29. What did Dr. Fazio find interesting about interracial roommates who had lived together for 10 weeks?

Passage Two

In a small laboratory at the Medical University of South Carolina, Dr. Vladimir Mironov has been working for a decade to grow meat. A developmental biologist and tissue engineer, Dr. Mironov, is one of only a few scientists worldwide involved in bioengineering 'cultured' meat.

It's a product he believes could help solve future global food crises resulting from shrinking amounts of land available for growing meat the old-fashioned way.

"Growth of cultured meat is also under way in the Netherlands," Mironov told Reuters in an interview, "but in the United States, it is science in search of funding and large-scale production."

The new National Institute of Food and Agriculture won't fund it, the National Institutes of Health won't fund it, and NASA funded it only briefly, Mironov said.

"It's classic disruptive technology," Mironov said. "Bringing any new technology to market, on average, costs $1 billion. We don't even have $1 million."

Director of the Advanced Tissue Biofabrication Center in the Department of Regenerative Medicine and Cell Biology at the medical university, Mironov now primarily conducts research on tissue engineering, or growing, of human organs.

"There's an unpleasant factor when people find out meat is grown in a lab. They don't like to associate technology with food," said Nicholas Genovese, a visiting scholar in cancer cell biology. "But there are a lot of products that we eat today that are considered natural that are produced in a similar manner," Genovese said.

Questions 30 to 32 are based on the passage you have just heard.

30. What does Dr. Mironov think of bioengineering cultured meat?
31. What does Dr. Mironov say about the funding for their research?
32. What does Nicholas Genovese say about a lot of products we eat today?

Passage Three

Bernard Jackson is a free man today, but he has many bitter memories. Jackson spent five years in prison after a jury wrongly convicted him of raping two women. At Jackson's trial, although two witnesses testified that Jackson was with them in another location at the times of the crimes, he was convicted anyway. Why? The jury believed the testimony of the two victims, who positively identified Jackson as the man who had attacked them. The court eventually freed Jackson after the police found the man who had really committed the crimes. Jackson was similar in appearance to the guilty man. The two women had made a mistake in identity. As a result, Jackson lost five years of his freedom.

The two women in this case were eyewitnesses. They clearly saw the man who attacked them, yet they mistakenly identified an innocent person. Similar incidents have occurred before. Eyewitnesses to other crimes have identified the wrong person in a police lineup or in photographs.

Many factors influence the accuracy of eyewitness testimony. For instance, witnesses sometimes see photographs of several suspects before they try to identify the person they saw in a lineup of people. They can become confused by seeing many photographs or similar faces. The number of people in the lineup, and whether it is a live lineup or a photograph, may also affect a witness's decision. People sometimes have difficulty identifying people of other races. The questions the police ask witnesses also have an effect on eyewitness testimony.

Questions 33 to 35 are based on the passage you have just heard.

33. What do we learn about Bernard Jackson?
34. What led directly to Jackson's sentence?
35. What lesson do we learn from Jackson's case?

 C) Indifferent. D) Realistic.

Part II 答案解析

11. 【答案】C 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：女士的话是什么意思？根据听力原文 "No problem. You can count on me to get one for you. My family has tons of camping gear." (没问题，你可以指望我给你弄一个，我家有大量的露营装备)，可知 C 项正确。
12. 【答案】D 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：女士的话是什么意思？根据听力原文 "Karen said she was available as a back-up." (Karen 说她有空，可以作为后备人选)，可知 D 项正确。
13. 【答案】A 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：男士的话是什么意思？根据听力原文 "Not even close. My uncle must put the brakes on my travelling plans." (还差得远呢，我叔叔肯定要对我的旅行计划加以限制)，可知 A 项正确。
14. 【答案】B 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：从对话中我们能了解到什么？根据听力原文 "Oh, Julia invited her friends over in the afternoon and they ate it all." (哦，Julia 下午邀请朋友过来，他们把饼全吃光了)，可知 B 项正确。
15. 【答案】B 【解析】建议题。问题问：男士建议女士做什么？根据听力原文 "It's a bit dated. You'd better submit a recent one." (这封有点过时了，你最好提交一封近期的推荐信)，可知 B 项正确。
16. 【答案】A 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：关于男士我们能推断出什么？根据听力原文 "Oh, thanks for the invitation, but this is how I relax. I'd rather not make it something formal and structured." (谢谢你的邀请，但这就是我放松的方式，我宁愿不把它变成正式而有条理的事情)，可知 A 项正确。
17. 【答案】D 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：女士的话是什么意思？根据听力原文 "I guess a lot of other people feel the way I do about modern art." (我猜很多其他人对现代艺术的感受和我一样)，可知 D 项正确。
18. 【答案】C 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：女士的话是什么意思？根据听力原文 "Oh, I can't decide right now because I have to find out more about the other candidates." (哦，我现在还无法决定，因为我得先多了解其他候选人的情况)，可知 C 项正确。
19. 【答案】B 【解析】细节理解题。问题问：女士抱怨什么？根据听力原文 "I can't seem to get anyone in the hospital to listen to my complaints and this outdated equipment is dangerous." (医院里似乎没人愿意听我的抱怨，而这台过时的设备很危险)，可知 B 项正确。

20. 【答案】A 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 女士已经要求她的主管做什么? 根据听力原文 "I made an effort to get my supervisor to transfer me to another department" (我努力让主管把我调到另一个部门), 可知 A 项正确。
21. 【答案】D 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 男士对这两部联邦法律是如何评价的? 根据听力原文 "the requirements of either of the Acts may be difficult to meet" (这两部法律中任何一部的条件要求都可能很难满足), 可知 D 项正确。
22. 【答案】C 【解析】行动计划题。问题问: 如果女士丢了工作, 工会会做什么? 根据听力原文 "the union will fight to get it back for you along with back pay" (工会会努力帮你把工作要回来, 并补发拖欠的工资), 可知 C 项正确。
23. 【答案】D 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 根据男士的说法, 科学的方法在谈判中何时体现得最充分? 根据听力原文 "You can prepare for a negotiation quite scientifically, but the execution of the negotiation has quite a lot to do with one's artistic quality." (你可以相当科学地为谈判做准备, 但谈判的执行很大程度上与人的艺术素质有关), 可知 D 项正确。
24. 【答案】A 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 根据男士的说法, 谈判者在哪方面像演员? 根据听力原文 "You can pretend that you don't like things which you are actually quite pleased about." (你可以假装不喜欢那些其实你非常满意的東西), 可知 A 项正确。
25. 【答案】C 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 男士对这两种类型的谈判者是如何评价的? 根据听力原文 "And both can work. I would say the honest negotiator can be quite effective in some circumstances. In other circumstances you need an actor." (两种方式都能奏效。我认为诚实的谈判者在某些情况下会很有效, 而在其他情况下你需要一个演员), 可知 C 项正确。
26. 【答案】B 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 测试中第一幕和第二幕的区别是什么? 根据听力原文 "Act Two is similar except that the yellow cube is smaller." (第二幕类似, 只是黄色的方块更小), 可知 B 项正确。
27. 【答案】C 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 科学家们如何解释他们在实验中观察到的现象? 根据听力原文 "In other words, the little girls are reasoning." (换句话说, 这些小女孩正在推理), 可知 C 项正确。
28. 【答案】B 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 说话人对这个实验是如何评价的? 根据听力原文 "This experiment certainly does not definitely prove that girls start to reason before boys, but it provides a clue that scientists would like to study more carefully." (这个实验当然不能确切证明女孩比男孩更早开始推理, 但它提供了一条科学家们想要更仔细研究的线索), 可知 B 项正确。
29. 【答案】D 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 根据科学家的说法, 大自然赋予女孩的另一个优势是什么? 根据听力原文 "Scientists have also found that nature seems to give another boost to girls. Baby girls usually talk at an earlier age than boys do." (科学家还发现, 大自然似乎又给了女孩另一个推动: 女婴通常比男婴更早开口说话), 可知 D 项正确。
30. 【答案】A 【解析】主旨大意题。问题问: Dillia Adorno 的报告重点是什么? 根据听力原文 "A superintendent of the city municipal building, Dillia Adorno, was responsible for presenting its new security plan to the public." (市政大楼的管理人 Dillia Adorno 负责向公众介绍大楼的新安保计划), 可知 A 项正确。
31. 【答案】C 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: Dillia Adorno 预料到了哪个问题? 根据听力原文 "An employee asked, 'Would the new system create long lines to get into the building like the lines in the airport security checks?' Dillia had anticipated this question" (一名员工问: "新系统会不会像机场安检那样, 在大楼入口造成人们排长队?" Dillia 早就预料到了这个问题), 可知 C 项正确。
32. 【答案】D 【解析】观点态度题。问题问: 说话人如何看待记者提出的问题? 根据听力原文 "The next question was more confrontational. ... The journalist who asked the question seemed hostile." (下一个问题更具对抗性……提出这个问题的记者似乎怀有敌意), 可知 D 项正确。
33. 【答案】A 【解析】推理判断题。问题问: 关于 Andrea 的丈夫, 我们了解到什么? 根据听力原文 "Andrea's husband, Rick, a miner in Nevada, was laid off." (Andrea 的丈夫 Rick 是内华达州的一名矿工, 他被解雇了), 可知 A 项正确。
34. 【答案】B 【解析】原因目的题。问题问: Andrea 为什么搬去和她的长子同住? 根据听力原文 "she knew that they couldn't pay their bills and support their youngest of five children, Zack, age nine, on one income." (她知道仅靠一份收入, 他们无法支付账单, 也无法抚养五个孩子中最小的、九岁的 Zack), 可知 B 项正确。

Part III 听力原文

Section A

11. M: I'd like to go camping with you this weekend, but I don't have a sleeping bag.
W: No problem. You can count on me to get one for you. My family has tons of camping gear.
Q: What does the woman mean?
12. M: I know I promised to drive you to the airport next Thursday, but I'm afraid something has come up. They've called a special meeting at work.
W: No big deal. Karen said she was available as a back-up.
Q: What does the woman mean?
13. W: Have you saved enough money for a trip to Hawaii?
M: Not even close. My uncle must put the brakes on my travelling plans.
Q: What does the man mean?
14. M: I'm starving. Do we still have any pie left from the dinner yesterday?
W: Oh, Julia invited her friends over in the afternoon and they ate it all.
Q: What do we learn from the conversation?
15. W: Three letters of recommendation are required to apply to graduate schools. I was wondering if the one Professor Smith wrote for me last year could still be used.
M: It's a bit dated. You'd better submit a recent one.
Q: What does the man suggest the woman do?
16. W: I've noticed that you spend a lot of time tending your garden. Would you like to join our gardening club? We meet every other Wednesday.
M: Oh, thanks for the invitation, but this is how I relax. I'd rather not make it something formal and structured.
Q: What can we infer about the man?
17. M: I heard the recent sculpture exhibit was kind of disappointing.
W: That's right. I guess a lot of other people feel the way I do about modern art.
Q: What does the woman mean?
18. M: Bob is running for chairman of the student union. Would you vote for him?
W: Oh, I can't decide right now because I have to find out more about the other candidates.
Q: What does the woman mean?

Long Conversation One

- W: I don't know what to do. I can't seem to get anyone in the hospital to listen to my complaints and this outdated equipment is dangerous. Just look at it.
M: Hmm, uh, are you trying to say that it presents a health hazard?
W: Yes, I am. The head technician in the lab tried to persuade the hospital administration to replace it, but they are trying to cut costs.
M: You are pregnant, aren't you?
W: Yes, I am. I made an effort to get my supervisor to transfer me to another department, but he urged me not to complain too loudly. Because the administration is more likely to replace me than an X-ray equipment, I'm afraid to refuse to work. But I'm more afraid to expose my unborn child to the radiation.
M: I see what you mean. Well, as your union representative, I have to warn you that it would take quite a while to force management to replace the old machines and attempt to get you transferred may or may not be successful.
W: Oh, what am I supposed to do then?
M: Workers have the legal right to refuse certain unsafe work assignments under two federal laws, the Occupational Safety and Health Act and the National Labor Relations Act. But the requirements of either of the Acts may be difficult to meet.
W: Do you think I have a good case?
M: If you do lose your job, the union will fight to get it back for you along with back pay, your lost income. But you have to be prepared for a long wait, maybe after two years.
- Questions 19 to 22 are based on the conversation you have just heard.
19. What does the woman complain about?
20. What has the woman asked her supervisor to do?
21. What does the man say about the two federal laws?

22. What will the union do if the woman loses her job?

Long Conversation Two

W: Mr. Green, is it fair to say that negotiation is an art?

M: Well, I think it's both an art and science. You can prepare for a negotiation quite scientifically, but the execution of the negotiation has quite a lot to do with one's artistic quality. The scientific part of a negotiation is in determining your strategy. What do you want out of it? What can you give? Then of course there are tactics. How do you go about it? Do you take an opening position in a negotiation which differs from the eventual goal you are heading for? And then of course there are the behavioral aspects.

W: What do you mean by the behavioral aspects?

M: Well, that's I think where the art comes in. In your behavior, you can either be an actor. You can pretend that you don't like things which you are actually quite pleased about. Or you can pretend to like things which you are quite happy to do without. Or you can be the honest type negotiator who's known to his partners in negotiation and always plays everything straight. But the artistic part of negotiation I think has to do with responding immediately to cues one gets in the process of negotiation. These can be verbal cues or even body language. This is where the artistic quality comes in.

W: So really, you see two types of negotiator then, the actor or the honest one.

M: That's right. And both can work. I would say the honest negotiator can be quite effective in some circumstances. In other circumstances you need an actor.

Questions 23 to 25 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

23. When is a scientific approach best embodied in a negotiation according to the man?

24. In what way is a negotiator like an actor according to the man?

25. What does the man say about the two types of negotiator?

Section B

Passage One

A scientific team is studying the thinking ability of eleven and a half month old children. The test is a simple one. The baby watches a sort of show on a small stage. In Act One of the show, a yellow cube is lifted from a blue box, and moved across the stage. Then it is returned to the box. This is repeated 6 times. Act Two is similar except that the yellow cube is smaller. Baby boys do not react at all to the difference in the size of the cube. But girls immediately become excited. The scientists interpret the girls' excitement as meaning they are trying to understand what they have just seen. They are wondering why Act Two is odd and how it differs from Act One. In other words, the little girls are reasoning. This experiment certainly does not definitely prove that girls start to reason before boys, but it provides a clue that scientists would like to study more carefully. Already it is known that bones, muscles and nerves develop faster in baby girls. Perhaps it is early nerve development that makes some infant girls show more intelligence than infant boys. Scientists have also found that nature seems to give another boost to girls. Baby girls usually talk at an earlier age than boys do. Scientists think that there is a physical reason for this. They believe that the nerve endings in the left side of the brain develop faster in girls than in boys, and it is this side of the brain that strongly influences an individual's ability to use language and remember things.

Questions 26 to 29 are based on the passage you have just heard.

26. What is the difference between Act One and Act Two in the test?

27. How do the scientists interpret their observation from the experiment?

28. What does the speaker say about the experiment?

29. According to scientists, what is another advantage given to girls by nature?

Passage Two

A superintendent of the city municipal building, Dillia Adorno, was responsible for presenting its new security plan to the public. City employees, citizens and reporters gathered in the hall to hear her describe the plan. After outlining the main points she would cover, she assured the audience that she would be happy to answer questions at the end of her presentation. Dillia realized the plan was expensive and potentially controversial. So she was not surprised to see a number of hands go up as soon as she finished speaking. An employee asked, "Would the new system create long lines to get into the building like the lines in the airport security checks?" Dillia had anticipated this question and had an answer ready. After repeating the question, she explained that a sufficient number of security guards would be working at peak hours to speed things along. The next question was more confrontational. "Where will the money come from to pay for all of this?" The journalist who asked the question seemed hostile. But Dillia was careful not to adopt a defensive tone. She stated that the money would come from the city's general budget. "I know these are tight times," she added, "But everyone agrees on the importance of safeguarding our employees and members of the public who come into the building." Near the end of the 25 minutes she had, Dillia said she would take two more questions. When those were finished, she concluded the session with a brief restatement of how the new system will improve security and peace of mind in the municipal building.

Questions 30 to 32 are based on the passage you have just heard.

30. What is the focus of Dillia Adorno's presentation?
31. What question had Dillia Adorno anticipated?
32. What did the speaker think of the question from the journalist?

Passage Three

Despite unemployment and the loss of her home, Andrea Clark considers herself a blessed and happy woman. Why the cheerful attitude? Her troubles have brought her closer to her family. Last year, Andrea's husband, Rick, a miner in Nevada, was laid off. Though Andrea kept her job as a school bus driver, she knew that they couldn't pay their bills and support their youngest of five children, Zack, age nine, on one income. "At first their church helped out, but you can't keep that up forever," Andrea says. Then Michael, their eldest of her four adult children, suggested they move in with his family. For almost three months, seven Clarks lived under one roof. Andrea, Rick and Zack stayed in the basement, sharing laundry and a single bathroom with Michael, his wife and their two children.

The change cut their expenditures in half, but the new living arrangement proved too challenging. When Andrea found a job with a school district closer to her mother's home in West Jordan, Utah, the family decided to move on. Packing up again was no picnic. Zack had to switch schools for the second time and space was even tighter. Andrea says that the moves themselves are exhausting and Rick is still looking for a job.

The recession has certainly come with more problems than Andrea anticipated, but she remains unfailingly optimistic. She is excited to spend more time with her mother. Another plus, rents are lower in Utah than in Nevada. So Andrea thinks they'll be able to save up and move out in less than 6 months.

Questions 33 to 35 are based on the passage you have just heard.

33. What do we learn about Andrea's husband?
34. Why did Andrea move to live in her eldest son's home?
35. What is Andrea's attitude toward the hardships brought by the economic recession?

2013年06月大学英语六级(CET-6)听力部分 Section A&B

Section A

Directions: In this section, you will hear 8 short conversations and 2 long conversations. At the end of each conversation, one or more questions will be asked about what was said. Both the conversation and the questions will be spoken only once. After each question there will be a pause. During the pause, you must read the four choices marked A), B), C) and D), and decide which is the best answer. Then mark the corresponding letter on Answer Sheet 1 with a single line through the centre.

1. A) She has completely recovered. B) She went into shock after an operation.
C) She is still in a critical condition. D) She is getting much better.
2. A) Ordering a breakfast. B) Booking a hotel room.
C) Buying a train ticket. D) Fixing a schedule.
3. A) Most borrowers never returned the books to her. B) The man is the only one who brought her book back.
C) She never expected anyone to return the books to her. D) Most of the books she lent out came back without jackets.
4. A) She left her work early to get some bargains last Saturday. B) She attended the supermarket's grand opening ceremony.
C) She drove for half an hour before finding a parking space. D) She failed to get into the supermarket last Saturday.
5. A) He is bothered by the pain in his neck. B) He cannot do his report without a computer.
C) He cannot afford to have a coffee break. D) He feels sorry to have missed the report.
6. A) Only top art students can show their works in the gallery. B) The gallery space is big enough for the man's paintings.
C) The woman would like to help with the exhibition layout. D) The man is uncertain how his art works will be received.
7. A) The woman needs a temporary replacement for her assistant. B) The man works in the same department as the woman does.
C) The woman will have to stay in hospital for a few days. D) The man is capable of dealing with difficult situations.
8. A) It was better than the previous one. B) It distorted the mayor's speech.
C) It exaggerated the city's economic problems. D) It reflected the opinions of most citizens.

Questions 9 to 12 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

9. A) To inform him of a problem they face. B) To request him to purchase control desks.
C) To discuss the content of a project report. D) To ask him to fix the dictating machine.
10. A) They quote the best price in the market. B) They manufacture and sell office furniture.
C) They cannot deliver the steel sheets on time. D) They cannot produce the steel sheets.
11. A) By marking down the unit price. B) By accepting the penalty clauses.
C) By allowing more time for delivery. D) By promising better after-sales service.
12. A) Give the customer a ten percent discount. B) Claim compensation from the steel suppliers.
C) Ask the Buying Department to change suppliers. D) Cancel the contract with the customer.

Questions 13 to 15 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

13. A) She is a Chaos Theory expert. B) She is a physicist.
C) She is a mathematician. D) She is an economist.
14. A) Improve computer efficiency. B) Explain certain natural phenomena.
C) Predict global population growth. D) Promote national financial development.
15. A) Their different educational backgrounds. B) Changing attitudes towards work.
C) Chaos Theory and its application in economics. D) The current global economic situation.

Section B

Directions: In this section, you will hear 3 short passages. At the end of each passage, you will hear some questions. Both the passage and the questions will be spoken only once. After you hear a question, you must choose the best answer from the four choices marked A), B), C) and D). Then mark the corresponding letter on Answer Sheet 1 with a single line through the centre.

Part II 答案解析

1. 【答案】D 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：从对话中我们了解到男士的妻子怎么样了？根据听力原文 "At first, the doctors weren't sure, but she's really improved. She'll be home next week" (起初医生们也不确定，但她的确好转了很多，下周就能回家了)，可知 D 项正确。
2. 【答案】C 【解析】细节理解题。问题问：男士正在做什么？根据听力原文 "can I get a ticket for a sleeping compartment on this train" (我能买一张这趟火车卧铺车厢的车票吗)，可知 C 项正确。
3. 【答案】A 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：女士暗示了什么？根据听力原文 "you are one of the few people who actually return books to me" (你是少数真正把书还给我的人之一)，可知 A 项正确。
4. 【答案】D 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：女士的话是什么意思？根据听力原文 "I drove around the parking lot for nearly an hour, looking for a space before I finally gave up and came home" (我开车在停车场绕了近一个小时找车位，最后放弃回家了)，可知 D 项正确。
5. 【答案】C 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：男士的话是什么意思？根据听力原文 "I'm up to my neck in work. I've got to finish this report. I don't want to miss the deadline" (我忙得不可开交，必须完成这份报告，不想错过最后期限)，可知 C 项正确。
6. 【答案】A 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：从对话中我们能推断出什么？根据听力原文 "Any art student I know would die to have an exhibition here" (我认识的每个艺术系学生都拼命想在这里办展览)，可知 A 项正确。
7. 【答案】A 【解析】推理判断题。问题问：从对话中我们了解到什么？根据听力原文 "my assistant is in hospital now. Is there anyone in your department who could give a hand for a few days" (我的助手现在住院了，你们部门有没有人能帮忙几天)，可知 A 项正确。
8. 【答案】B 【解析】细节理解题。问题问：男士对报纸上的文章说了什么？根据听力原文 "I think they twisted the meaning of what he said" (我觉得他们歪曲了他所说的话的意思)，可知 B 项正确。
9. 【答案】A 【解析】原因目的题。问题问：女士为什么给男士发消息？根据听力原文 "It's the message you sent me about the delivery delay on the control desks. What's gone wrong?" (是你发给我的关于控制台交货延迟的消息，出了什么问题)，可知 A 项正确。

11. 【答案】B 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 男士是怎样拿到这份合同的? 根据听力原文 "We have to accept them; otherwise, we don't get the contract" (我们不得不接受这些罚款条款, 否则就拿不到合同), 可知 B 项正确。
12. 【答案】B 【解析】建议题。问题问: 女士建议他们做什么? 根据听力原文 "We can perhaps claim compensation from the steel suppliers for failure to deliver on time" (我们或许可以因为钢铁供应商未能按时交货而向他们索赔), 可知 B 项正确。
13. 【答案】D 【解析】身份关系题。问题问: 女士的职业是什么? 根据听力原文 "You're an economist, so how does it influence your work" (你是经济学家, 那么它如何影响你的工作), 可知 D 项正确。
14. 【答案】B 【解析】原因目的题。问题问: 混沌理论最初被提出时是要做什么? 根据听力原文 "Chaos Theory was developed by scientists, trying to explain the movement of planets and changes in environmental conditions" (混沌理论是由科学家提出的, 旨在解释行星运动和自然环境条件的变化), 可知 B 项正确。
15. 【答案】C 【解析】主旨大意题。问题问: 说话者主要在谈论什么? 根据听力原文 "Chaos Theory seems to be a branch of physics or mathematics. You're an economist, so how does it influence your work?" (混沌理论似乎是物理学或数学的一个分支, 你是经济学家, 那么它如何影响你的工作), 可知 C 项正确。
16. 【答案】D 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 说话者关于贝尔实验室说了什么? 根据听力原文 "The best study was done at Bell Labs in New Jersey, a very high IQ place" (最好的研究是在新泽西的贝尔实验室进行的, 那是一个智商很高的地方), 可知 D 项正确。
17. 【答案】B 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 贝尔实验室提名的明星员工有什么特点? 根据听力原文 "The only difference was in emotional intelligence" (唯一的差别在于情商), 可知 B 项正确。
18. 【答案】A 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 说话者认为什么有助于有效地完成技术任务? 根据听力原文 "having been good in the interpersonal realm actually was a direct benefit, even for effectively pursuing a technical task" (擅长人际交往实际上是一种直接的好处, 即使对有效地完成技术任务也是如此), 可知 A 项正确。
19. 【答案】C 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 说话者介绍的是一本什么书? 根据听力原文 "Here's a biography of John Muir" (这是一本约翰·缪尔的传记), 可知 C 项正确。
20. 【答案】B 【解析】推理判断题。问题问: 我们了解到约翰·缪尔年轻时是怎样的? 根据听力原文 "As America's first environmentalist, John Muir lived his life forever daring to undertake new adventures" (作为美国第一位环保主义者, 约翰·缪尔一生都勇于进行新的冒险), 可知 B 项正确。
21. 【答案】C 【解析】原因目的题。问题问: 约翰·缪尔想通过写作和演讲达到什么目的? 根据听力原文 "His writing and speaking raised the awareness of the importance of conservation" (他的写作和演讲提高了人们对保护环境重要性的认识), 可知 C 项正确。
22. 【答案】D 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 埃博拉病毒是以什么命名的? 根据听力原文 "Named after a river that passes through the Congo, the Ebola virus" (埃博拉病毒是以一条流经刚果的河流命名的), 可知 D 项正确。
23. 【答案】A 【解析】推理判断题。问题问: 关于埃博拉扎伊尔型和埃博拉苏丹型我们了解到什么? 根据听力原文 "Two strains of the disease with almost identical symptoms affected humans — Ebola Zaire and Ebola Sudan" (两种症状几乎相同的病毒株感染了人类——埃博拉扎伊尔型和埃博拉苏丹型), 可知 A 项正确。
24. 【答案】B 【解析】细节理解题。问题问: 根据说话者所说, 人们是怎样感染这种疾病的? 根据听力原文 "needle sharing and other unhealthy practices ensured the rapid spreading of the infection by bringing people into contact with contaminated body fluids" (共用针头和其他不健康的做法使人们接触到被污染的体液, 从而确保感染迅速传播), 可知 B 项正确。
25. 【答案】C 【解析】观点态度题。问题问: 说话者相信什么? 根据听力原文 "With no known vaccination or cure available, it seems only a matter of time until another epidemic erupts" (由于没有已知的疫苗或治疗方法, 再一次疫情爆发似乎只是时间问题), 可知 C 项正确。

Part III 听力原文

Section A

1. W: I was shocked to hear of your wife's illness. Is she going to be all right?

更多学习资源, 关注吉井解学公众号

M: At first, the doctors weren't sure, but she's really improved. She'll be home next week.

Q: What do we learn about the man's wife from the conversation?

2. M: Excuse me, can I get a ticket for a sleeping compartment on this train?

W: Yes, there are four left. The price is 60 pounds per person, including a continental breakfast.

Q: What is the man doing?

3. M: Janet, here's the book I borrowed from you, but I'm so sorry that I can't find its jacket.

W: It doesn't matter. Anyway, you are one of the few people who actually return books to me.

Q: What does the woman imply?

4. M: Lisa, have you been to the new supermarket yet?

W: Yes and no. I went there last Saturday for their grand opening sale, but I drove around the parking lot for nearly an hour, looking for a space before I finally gave up and came home.

Q: What does the woman mean?

5. W: You've been sitting at the computer for hours. Let's take a coffee break, shall we?

M: I wish I could. You know, I'm up to my neck in work. I've got to finish this report. I don't want to miss the deadline.

Q: What does the man mean?

6. M: What do you think of this gallery space? They offered to let me exhibit some of my paintings here.

W: Are you kidding? Any art student I know would die to have an exhibition here.

Q: What can we infer from the conversation?

7. W: Gary, my assistant is in hospital now. Is there anyone in your department who could give a hand for a few days?

M: I think so. I'll ask around and get back to you.

Q: What do we learn from the conversation?

8. W: Did you read the article in the paper about the mayor's speech at the economic forum?

M: Sure I did, but I think they twisted the meaning of what he said. It's not the first time for them to do so.

Q: What does the man say about the paper's article?

Long Conversation One

W: Oh, hello John. Are you using your dictating machine this morning? I've got a long report I must dictate. Can I borrow your machine?

M: Of course. But can you spare me a second? It's the message you sent me about the delivery delay on the control desks. What's gone wrong?

W: Everything, John. We have to get the steel sheets we need for these desks from new suppliers. Well, the suppliers have got some trouble or other. They say they will be a bit late for delivery.

M: But they can't be. Those control desks are a special order. They are wanted for one of the big computer companies. It's a very important contract.

W: When did we promise delivery?

M: On Thursday next week. And there's a penalty clause. We stand to lose 10 percent of our price for each week of overdue delivery.

W: Oh, these penalty clauses. Why do you sales people accept them?

M: We have to accept them; otherwise, we don't get the contract.

W: Well, let's get on to the Buying Department. I only heard about the delay yesterday because we kept the production line clear to handle the special sheets. It's a dreadful nuisance.

M: It will be more than a nuisance if we don't meet the delivery date. It will cost us a lot of money.

W: Keep calm, John. We can perhaps claim compensation from the steel suppliers for failure to deliver on time. That will offset the penalty clauses.

M: Well, if you can.

Questions 9 to 12 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

9. Why did the woman send the message to the man?

10. What does the woman say about the new suppliers?

11. How did the man get the contract?

12. What does the woman suggest they do?

Long Conversation Two

M: Cathy, Chaos Theory seems to be a branch of physics or mathematics. You're an economist, so how does it influence your work?

更多学习资源，关注吉井解学公众号

W: Well, in several ways. I'm responsible for financial development programmes in many parts of the world, so forecasting long-range trends and making predictions on the basis of present evidence is what I do. Chaos Theory was developed by scientists, trying to explain the movement of planets and changes in environmental conditions. Lots of these things are also about making long-term predictions on the basis of present evidence.

M: Are many economists involved in this field?

W: An increasing number. In the 1990s, many economists began to look at Chaos Theory as a way of providing models for forecasting.

M: What kind of models are we talking about here?

W: Well, that's a good question. Because a basic idea of Chaos Theory is that there aren't any models as such; there aren't guaranteed forms but rather patterns of change in development.

M: Doesn't that mean that forecasting is impossible?

W: No. But it certainly makes it more of a challenge. Mandelbrot, who did the experiment with stock exchange prices, for example, noted that although the outcomes were variable, there were in fact certain constants. What we have to do is to make sure we know what these are and take into account all the possible variables.

M: But do economics and finance work in the same way as weather conditions or the movement of planets?

W: Well, no, of course not. There are certain underlying similarities. But we have to leave them for another time.

Questions 13 to 15 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

13. What is the woman's profession?

14. What was Chaos Theory supposed to do when it was first formulated?

15. What are the speakers mainly talking about?

Section B

Passage One

People write to ask me if there is correlation between academic intelligence and emotional intelligence. My answer is "No". You can have a high IQ and a high EQ, which of course is a winning combination, or be high in one and low in the other.

The best study was done at Bell Labs in New Jersey, a very high IQ place. They do research and development for the communications industry. In a division of electronics engineers, who were designing equipment so advanced that they worked in teams of up to 150, co-workers and managers were asked to nominate the standouts — the stars in productivity and effectiveness. They came up with 10 or 15 names, and that group of stars was compared with everyone else. It turned out there was no difference in IQ, no difference in academic qualifications, no difference in years on the job. The only difference was in emotional intelligence. The stars were people who knew how to get along. They knew how to motivate themselves, usually the kind of people you like to hang out with. When these people ran up against a technical problem to which they'd have to turn to someone else for an answer, they'd e-mail and get an answer right away. Because they'd built up networks of people before they needed them. The other people would e-mail and wait up to 2 weeks for an answer. So you can see having been good in the interpersonal realm actually was a direct benefit, even for effectively pursuing a technical task.

Questions 16 to 18 are based on the passage you have just heard.

16. What does the speaker say about Bell Labs?

17. What characterises the stars nominated at Bell Labs?

18. What does the speaker say contributes to effectively pursuing a technical task?

Passage Two

Here's a biography of John Muir. It draws on Muir's own writings to bring readers a life story of this remarkable man who did so much to raise America's awareness of environmental issues.

As America's first environmentalist, John Muir lived his life forever daring to undertake new adventures. He spent most of his days outdoors and had a deep love for the wild lands.

In the book, we meet John Muir as a youth fearlessly climbing the roof of his house. He captures birds only to let them go when he realises the cruelty involved. He becomes an inventor and sells his inventions in order to attend the university. As a young man, he began walking over tens of thousands of miles during his lifetime, through the south to Florida, the west to California and north to Alaska, where readers are taken on a long and particularly hair-raising adventure on a large mass of floating ice.

Muir's learning in observation throughout his life led him to devote his last years to preserving the natural environment. His writing and speaking raised the awareness of the importance of conservation and helped bring about our national park system. Readers will feel they know John Muir after reading his story and may catch his passion for preserving the riches of our land. The author's portrayal of Muir's life is a testimony to what it means to be lifelong learners and to use that learning to inform and bring about change.

20. What do we learn about John Muir when he was young?
21. What did John Muir intend to do through writing and speaking?

Passage Three

Disaster movies often portray catastrophes that destroy or at least threaten to destroy earth's entire population. In fact, a virus emerged in the 1970s could have been just that fatal. Named after a river that passes through the Congo, the Ebola virus originally manifested itself in the interior of Africa in 1976. Two strains of the disease with almost identical symptoms affected humans — Ebola Zaire and Ebola Sudan. The Sudan version was deadly enough, killing 50 percent of those it infected. However, Zaire, with its 90 percent mortality rate, was even worse. The origins, though not the cause, of Ebola Sudan, can be traced back to a single individual in a Sudanese town. Ebola Zaire seemed to erupt in over 50 villages simultaneously. Both strains quickly invaded local hospitals, where needle sharing and other unhealthy practices ensured the rapid spreading of the infection by bringing people into contact with contaminated body fluids. If the virus had been capable of spreading through the air, or if one infected person had unknowingly entered a large population centre, Ebola might have become a worldwide epidemic. However, soon after these fierce outbreaks, the virus died out, at least temporarily. Ebola was so deadly and killed so quickly that within a short period of time, there was no one around to infect. Hospital workers in at least one case deserted their workplace in panic, thus halting the administering of potentially unclean disease-spreading injections. But Ebola has not disappeared. With no known vaccination or cure available, it seems only a matter of time until another epidemic erupts.

Questions 22 to 25 are based on the passage you have just heard.

22. What is the Ebola virus named after?
23. What do we learn about Ebola Zaire and Ebola Sudan?
24. How do people get infected with the disease according to the speaker?
25. What does the speaker believe?

Part III 听力原文

Section A

1. W: Has my order arrived yet? I've been expecting it since last week.
M: I called the company this morning. They had some labor problems, so your order will be shipped late. It should be here by the end of the week.
Q: What has caused the delay of the shipment?
2. W: I don't agree with Mr. Johnson's views on social welfare. He seems to suggest the poor are robbing the rich.
M: He might have used better words to express his idea. But I think what he said makes a lot of sense.
Q: What does the man mean?
3. M: Liz, I just found out that I have a meeting and can't pick up the kids after their soccer practice. Will you be able to pick them up in time?
W: Yes, that won't be a problem. I think I can finish early today.
Q: Why does the man say he can't pick up the kids?
4. W: Mary is going to get a little dog from one of her relatives.
M: Really? But I hear her apartment building is about to place a ban on pet animals.
Q: What does the man imply?
5. W: I can never tell whether it's Lisa or Gale on the phone. Their voices sound incredibly similar.
M: That's about the only thing they have in common for twins, believe it or not.
Q: What does the man mean?
6. W: Jay, what does the fax from our associates in Britain say?
M: They want to know if the economic crisis would affect our ability to carry out the deal we signed last November.
Q: What are the speakers talking about?
7. M: Do you think you'll be able to get this ink stain off my pants?
W: It won't be a problem. But I need to send them over to our main cleaning facility. That's an extra day's time.
Q: What does the woman mean?
8. W: That looks like a protest rally. I wonder what they're protesting against.
M: That sign says they are against importing luxury goods from Europe. They seem to be getting so worked up about that.
Q: What are the speakers talking about?

Long Conversation One

- W: What is it, Bob? You sounded pretty serious on the phone. Have we still got a budget problem?
M: I don't know. I hope not. The meeting's on Friday. But that's not what I want to talk to you about. Er... Close the door, will you? It's Marsha.
W: Marsha? What about her?
M: I am worried. I don't know what to do. She is just not performing. We may have to let her go.
W: Fire her? She's been with us for a long time, Bob. If she leaves, it will be a big loss to us. She's done really excellent work.
M: Yes, but lately, the last month or so in fact, there have been a lot of problems. She's changed. Not only does she have a tendency to be moody all the time, but she misses appointments, doesn't follow through on projects and doesn't seem to plan anything till the last minute.
W: Em... Did she ever explain why she didn't show up for the Denver trip?
M: No, she said she was sorry and that wouldn't happen again. Something about her mixed up on the arrangement to get to the airport. Now whenever anybody mentions the subject to her, she just goes silent. I don't know. Thank goodness, David pulled her out as a whole on that one.
W: Yes, he did a really fine job, filling in for Marsha like that at the last minute.
M: I don't think it was the first time he has to do that. If we knew all the facts, I think we'd find that he has been covering for Marsha on quite a few projects.

Questions 9 to 12 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

9. Why did the man call the woman?
10. What does the man say about Marsha?

Long Conversation Two

M: You are the headmistress of the Oxford High School for Girls. How many girls do you have here?

W: We have 650 girls.

M: In your experience, do girls do better academically and later professionally in single sex schools?

W: Yes, I think they do better academically. And you can measure that very crudely from the examination results. I also think they do better academically because they have more opportunities to take the leading role in discussions and managerial responsibilities. I think they see the role models of chief positions of the school being held by women.

M: I wonder if you could say then in a few words what the advantages are for a girl in the single sex school.

W: Well, I think within the classroom, she is going to have full opportunity to express her own opinions. She isn't going to be shouted down by overconfident young gentlemen.

M: Are teenagers in particular, do you think, shut out too much from the contact with the opposite sex? Does this cause difficulties when they find themselves in mixed groups?

W: Well, I would like to find the parents who could shelter girls from the opposite sex if they live in Oxford. They encounter boys all the time socially out of school and through debating societies and things like that, some school activities as well.

M: So, no disadvantages at all?

W: I don't think there are any disadvantages. I think that it is grossly overstated that one needs to have contact with the opposite sex right through the whole of life in the classroom and outside the classroom at all ages.

Questions 13 to 15 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

13. What does the woman say about the girls in her school?

14. What do we learn about the woman's school?

15. What does the woman say about the girls' social life?

Section B

Passage One

Larry arrived early for his speaking engagement. He positioned the table so that he could move close to the audience at strategic points in his speech. He had read that speakers can be more persuasive if they invade the personal space of listeners, encouraging an emotional response. For the same reason, he placed the chairs close to each other, and raised the temperature to a slightly uncomfortable level. The purpose of the speech was to encourage the audience of corporate executives and local business owners to support local sports groups. To enhance his credibility with the audience, Larry had brought some slides of his family attending sports events. One photo showed him at an award ceremony where he had been honored for his financial contribution to a local baseball team. Realizing that this particular audience would find his regional accent unattractive, Larry planned to speak with an accent that would be more acceptable to his audience. After reading a book on how to dress for success, he had purchased an expensive dark navy suit and golden tie. He chose colors and styles known to communicate power and influence. Just before people began entering the hall, Larry dimmed the lights and turned up the sound system, which was playing soft music, hoping to create a warm personal atmosphere for the speech. He hoped that these added effects would encourage his audience to support local sports teams. He had also planned the content of his speech to focus on the teams with the best records, the ones that had won the most games in the last season.

Questions 16 to 19 are based on the passage you have just heard.

16. How can a speaker make himself more persuasive when delivering a speech?

17. For what purpose was Larry going to make a speech?

18. Why did Larry purchase an expensive navy suit and golden tie?

19. Why did Larry dim the lights and turn up the sound system before people entered the hall?

Passage Two

Phyllis Wheatley was a young African-American slave, who belonged to landowner John Wheatley in Colonial America. She was also a poet and the first African-American ever to publish a book. Her poems on various subjects, religious and moral, were printed in Boston in 1773, three years before the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Early slaves were generally denied education, but Wheatley was allowed by her owner to study poetry, Latin and the Bible. And by the time she reached her late teens, she had written enough poetry to put together a slender book of verse. Even so, publication was difficult. The publisher, fearful of being cheated, forced her to submit to a scholarly examination by a board of educated men, including the colonial governor. The board of judges questioned Wheatley extensively and ruled that she was educated enough to have written the book. Only then was publication permitted. Wheatley may have been the first but she was not the only slave to write a book during the growing days of the Republic. Unfortunately, most of the early popular African-American writers have been all but forgotten in modern times until now. A Cornell professor, Henry Louis Gates, recently directed a research project looking into 19th-century African-American fiction and poetry. In the process, he uncovered numerous lost works, almost half of which were written by African-American women. In varied literary styles, the newly resurfaced manuscripts offered a rich stock of African-American culture, recreating among other things the early days of slavery and the importance of religion to the slaves.

Questions 20 to 22 are based on the passage you have just heard.

20. What does the speaker say about Phyllis Wheatley?
21. What was Wheatley forced to do to get her book published?
22. What did Professor Henry Louis Gates uncover in the process of his research?

Passage Three

In today's personality stakes, nothing is more highly valued than a sense of humour. We seek it out in others and are proud to claim it in ourselves, perhaps even more than good looks or intelligence. If someone has a great sense of humour, we reason, it means that they are happy, socially confident and have a healthy perspective on life.

This attitude would have surprised the ancient Greeks, who believed humour to be essentially aggressive. "And in fact, our admiration for the comically gifted is relatively new, and not very well-founded," says Rod Martin, a psychologist at the University of Western Ontario. Being funny isn't necessarily an indicator of good social skills and well-being; his research has shown it may just as likely be a sign of personality flaws.

He has found that humour is a double-edged sword. It can forge better relationships and help you cope with life, or it can be corrosive, eating away at self-esteem and irritating others. "It's a form of communication, like speech, and we all use it differently," says Martin. We use bonding humour to enhance our social connections but we also may imply it as a way of excluding or rejecting an outsider.

Though humour is essentially social, how you use it says a lot about your sense of self. Those who use self-defeating humour, making fun of themselves for the enjoyment of others, tend to maintain that hostility toward themselves even when they are alone. Similarly, those who are able to view the world with amused tolerance are often equally forgiving of their own shortcomings.

Questions 23 to 25 are based on the passage you have just heard.

23. How do people today view humour according to the speaker?
24. What did ancient Greeks think of humour?
25. What has psychologist Rod Martin found about humour?

Part III 听力原文

Section A

1. W: The students have been protesting against the increased tuition.
M: Yeah, I heard about the protest. But I don't know how much good it will do.
Q: What does the man mean?
2. W: Jay will turn 21 this week. Does he know the class is having a surprise party for him?
M: No. He thinks we are giving a party for the retiring dean.
Q: What do we learn from the conversation?
3. M: Hello. This is Carl's Garage. We found Mr. White's briefcase and wallet after he left his car here this morning.
W: He has been wondering where he could have left them. I'll tell him to pick them up this afternoon. Thank you for calling.
Q: What do we learn about Mr. White from the conversation?
4. W: You know, some TV channels have been rerunning a lot of comedies from the 1960s. What do you think of those old shows?
M: Not much. But the new ones including those done by famous directors are not so entertaining either.
Q: What does the man mean?
5. M: How much longer should I boil these vegetables? The recipe says about 10 minutes in total.
W: They look pretty done to me. I doubt you should cook them anymore.
Q: What does the woman mean?
6. W: Tom, are you going to your parents' house tonight?
M: Yes. I promised to help them figure out their tax returns. The tax code is really confusing to them.
Q: What is the man going to do for his parents?
7. W: I was surprised when I heard you'd finished your research project a whole month early.
M: How I managed to do it is still a mystery to me.
Q: What does the man mean?
8. W: I was hoping we could be in the same developmental psychology class.
M: Me too. But by the time I went for registration, the course was closed.
Q: What does the man mean?

Long Conversation One

- M: It's really amazing how many colors there are in these Thai silks.
W: These are our new designs.
M: Oh, I don't think I've seen this combination of colors before.
W: They're really brilliant, aren't they?
M: Quite dazzling! May I have samples of the new color combinations?
W: Yes, of course. But aren't you going to place an order?
M: We order them regularly, you know, but I do want our buyer who handles fabrics to see them.
W: Have you looked at the wood and stone carvings? Did you like them?
M: Oh, they aren't really what I'm looking for.
W: What do you have in mind?
M: That's the trouble. I never know exactly until I see it. I usually have more luck when I get away from the tourist places.
W: Out in the countryside you mean?
M: Yes, exactly. Markets in small towns have turned out best for me.
W: You're more interested, then, in handicrafts that haven't been commercialized.
M: Yes, real folk arts, pots, dishes, basketware — the kinds of things that people themselves use.
W: I'm sure we can arrange a trip out into the country for you.
M: I was hoping you'd say that.
W: We can drive out of Bangkok and stop whenever you see something that interests you.
M: That would be wonderful! How soon could we leave?
W: I can't get away tomorrow. But I think I can get a car for the day after.

M: And would we have to come back the same day?

W: No, I think I'll be able to keep the car for three or four days.

M: Wonderful! That'll give me time for a real look around.

Questions 9 to 11 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

9. What attracts the man to the Thai silks?

10. What is the man looking for in Thailand?

11. What do we learn about the trip the woman promised to arrange for the man?

Long Conversation Two

W: Well, before we decide we're going to live in Enderby, we really ought to have a look at the schools. We want the children to have a good secondary education, so we'd better see what's available.

M: They gave me some information at the district office and I took notes. It appears there are five secondary schools in Enderby, three state schools and two private.

W: I don't know if we want private schools, do we?

M: I don't think so, but we'll look at them anyway. There are Saint Mary's, that's a Catholic school for girls and Carlton Abbey, that's a very old boys' boarding school, founded in 1672.

W: Are all the state schools coeducational?

M: Yes, it seems so.

W: I think little Keith is very good with his hands. We ought to send him to a school with good vocational training — carpentry, electronics, that sort of thing.

M: In that case, we are best off at Enderby Comprehensive. I gather they have excellent workshops and instructors. But it says here the Donwell also has good facilities. Enderby High has a little, but they are mostly academic. No vocational training at all at Carlton Abbey or Saint Mary's.

W: What are the schools like academically? How many children go on to university every year?

M: Well, Enderby High is very good. And Carlton Abbey even better, 70% of their pupils go on to university. Donwell isn't so good. Only 8%. And Enderby Comprehensive and Saint Mary's not much more, about 10%.

W: Well, it seems like there is a broad selection of schools. But we'll have to find out more than statistics before we can decide.

Questions 12 to 15 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

12. What do the speakers want their children to have?

13. What do the speakers say about little Keith?

14. What school has the highest percentage of pupils who go on to university?

15. What are the speakers going to do next?

Section B

Passage One

Good morning, ladies and gentlemen! As instructed in our previous meeting, the subcommittee on building development has now drawn up a brief to submit to the firm's architect. In short, the building would consist of two floors. There would be a storage area in the basement to be used by the research centre as well as by other departments. We are, as you know, short of storage space, so the availability of a large basement would be a considerable advantage. The ground floor would be occupied by laboratories. Altogether there would be six labs. In addition, there would be six offices for the technicians, plus a general secretarial office and a reception area. The first floor would be occupied by the offices of Research and Development staff. There would be a suite of offices for the Research and Development Director as well as a general office for secretarial staff. It's proposed to have a staff room with a small kitchen. This would serve both floors. There would also be a library for research documents and reference material. In addition, there would be a resource room in which audio-visual equipment and other equipment of that sort could be stored. Finally, there would be a seminar room with closed-circuit television. This room would also be used to present displays and demonstrations to visitors to the centre. The building would be of brick construction so as to conform to the general style of construction on the site. There would be a pitched roof. Wall and ceiling spaces would be insulated to conform to new building regulations.

Questions 16 to 18 are based on the passage you have just heard.

16. What is said about the planned basement of the new building?

17. Where would be the Research and Development Director's office?

18. Why would the building be of brick construction?

Passage Two

Huang Yi works for a company that sells financial software to small- and medium-size businesses. His job is to show customers how to use the new software. He spends two weeks with each client, demonstrating the features and functions of the software. The first few months on the job were difficult. He often left the client feeling that even after two weeks he hadn't been able to show the employees everything they needed to know. It's not that they weren't interested; they obviously appreciated his instruction and showed a desire to learn. Huang couldn't figure out if the software was difficult for them to understand, or if he was not doing a good job of teaching. During the next few months, Huang started to see some patterns. He would get to a new client site and spend the first week going over the software with the employees. He usually did this in shifts, with different groups of employees listening to him lecture. Then he would spend the next week installing the program and helping individuals troubleshoot. Huang realized that during the week of troubleshooting and answering questions, he ended up addressing the same issues over and over. He was annoyed because most of the individuals with whom he worked seemed to have retained very little information from the first week. They asked very basic questions and often needed prompting from beginning to end. At first, he wondered if these people were just a little slow, but then he began to get the distinct feeling that part of the problem might be his style of presenting the information.

更多学习资源，关注吉井解学公众号

Questions 19 to 22 are based on the passage you have just heard.

19. What does Huang Yi do in his company?
20. What did Huang Yi think of his work?
21. What did Huang Yi do in addition to lecturing?
22. What did Huang Yi realize in the end?

Passage Three

As we help children get out into the world to do their learning there, we can get more of the world into the schools. Aside from their parents, most children never have any close contact with any adults except their teachers. No wonder they have no idea what adult life or work is like. We need to bring more people who are not full-time teachers into the schools. In New York City, under the Teachers' and Writers' Collaborative, real writers come into the schools, read their work, and talk to the children about the problems of their craft. The children love it. In another school, a practicing attorney comes in every month and talks to several classes about the law. Not the law as it is in books, but the law as he sees it and encounters it in his cases. And the children listen with intense interest. Here's something even easier: Let children work together, help each other, learn from each other and each other's mistakes. We now know from the experience of many schools that children are often the best teachers of other children. What's more important, we know that when a fifth- or sixth-grader who has been having trouble with reading starts helping a first-grader, his own reading sharply improves. A number of schools are beginning to use what some call Paired Learning. This means that you let children form partnerships with other children, do their work even including their tests together and share whatever marks or results this work gets, just like grown-ups in the real world. It seems to work.

Questions 23 to 25 are based on the passage you have just heard.

23. Why does the speaker say most children have no idea what adult life is like?
24. What is happening in New York City schools?
25. What does the experience of many schools show?

24. 【答案】C 【解析】事实细节题。问题问: 关于洞穴壁画的旧理论是什么? 根据听力原文 "The paintings in this cave refute the old theory that Cro-Magnon people painted animals that they hunted and then ate." (这个洞穴里的壁画推翻了旧理论, 即克罗马农人画的是他们捕猎并食用的动物), 可知旧理论认为克罗马农人画的是他们捕猎并食用的动物, C 项正确。

25. 【答案】A 【解析】事实细节题。问题问: 根据说话者, 科学家们坦率承认了什么? 根据听力原文 "They readily admit, however, that little is understood yet as to the reasons why ice age artists created their interesting and detailed paintings." (然而, 科学家们坦率地承认, 关于冰河时代的艺术家们为何创作这些有趣而细致的壁画, 人们还了解甚少), 可知科学家们对壁画创作的原因了解甚少, A 项正确。

Part III 听力原文

Section A

1. M: Before we play again, I'm going to buy a good tennis racket.

W: Your shoes aren't in a very good shape, either.

Q: What does the woman mean?

2. M: Barbara, I'm glad you could assist me in the lab demonstration. But aren't you supposed to go to Dr. Smith's lecture today?

W: I asked Kathy to take notes for me.

Q: What do we learn from the conversation?

3. W: Steve invited me to the dinner party on Sunday evening. Have you received your invitation yet?

M: Yes. He phoned me this morning and told me he wanted all his old classmates to come to the reunion.

Q: What do we learn from the conversation?

4. W: I'm afraid I'm a little bit seasick. I feel dizzy.

M: Close your eyes and relax. You'll be all right as soon as we come ashore.

Q: Where does the conversation most probably take place?

5. W: I wonder what's happened to our train. It should have been here 20 minutes ago according to the timetable. But it's already 9:30.

M: There's no need to get nervous. The announcement says it's 40 minutes late.

Q: When is the train arriving?

6. M: John is handsome and wealthy. Believe it or not, he is still a bachelor.

W: He is a notorious guy in many girls' eyes. I'm sick of hearing his name.

Q: What does the woman mean?

7. M: Cars had lined up bumper to bumper. And I've been held up on the expressway for an entire hour.

W: Really? It must be a pain in the neck. But be patient. Anyway, you can do nothing but wait.

Q: What do we learn about the man?

8. W: Yesterday I was surprised to see Mary using that washing machine you were going to throw away.

M: Yes, it's quite old and in very poor condition. Frankly speaking, that she got it working amazes me a lot.

Q: What does the man imply about Mary?

Long Conversation One

M: A recent case I heard was of a man accused and found guilty of breaking into a house and stealing some money.

W: Well, was he really guilty, Judge?

M: He admitted that he'd done it, and there were several witnesses saying that he had indeed done it. So I can only assume that he was guilty.

W: Why did he do it?

M: Well, the reasons were a little muddled. Probably at least it seemed in a trial that he did it to get some money to feed his family. You see, he'd been out of work for some time.

W: Well, he'd been out of work and he chose to break into a house to get money for his family and apparently in front of people that, er... could see him do it.

M: His attorney presented testimony that he had indeed applied for jobs and was listed with several employment agencies, including the State Employment Agency, but there weren't any jobs.

W: And he had no luck!

M: He had no luck and it'd been some time. He had two children and both of them were needing food and clothing.

W: So he was in desperate circumstances. Did you sentence him?

M: Yes.

W: But what good does it do to put the man into jail when he's obviously in such need?

M: This particular fellow has been in prison before.

W: For the same thing?

M: No, for a different sort of crime.

W: Huh?

M: But he did know about crime, so I suppose there are folks that just have to go back to prison several times.

Questions 9 to 11 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

9. What did the judge say about the case he recently heard?

10. What do we learn about the man at the time of the crime?

11. What did the judge say about the accused?

Long Conversation Two

M: Ah, how do you do, Miss Wenzmore?

W: How do you do?

M: Do sit down.

W: Thank you.

M: I'm glad you're interested in our job. Now, let me explain it. We plan to increase our advertising considerably. At present, an advertising agency handles our account, but we haven't been too pleased with the results lately and we may give our account to another agency.

W: What would my work entail?

M: You'd be responsible to me for all advertising and to Mr. Grunt for public relations. You'd brief the agency whoever it is on the kind of advertising campaign we want. You would also be responsible for getting our leaflets, brochures and catalogs designed.

W: I presume you advertise in the national press as well as the trade press.

M: Yes, we do.

W: Have you thought about advertising on television?

M: We don't think it's a suitable medium for us. And it's much too expensive.

W: I can just imagine a scene with a typist sitting on an old-fashioned typing chair, her back aching, exhausted, then we show her in one of your chairs, her back properly supported, feeling full of energy, typing twice as quickly.

M: Before you get carried away with your little scene, Miss Wenzmore, I regret to have to tell you again that we are not planning to go into television.

W: That's a shame. I've been doing a lot of television work lately and it interests me enormously.

M: Then I really don't think that this is quite the right job for you here, Miss Wenzmore.

Questions 12 to 15 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

12. What does the man think of their present advertising agency?

13. What would the woman be responsible for to Mr. Grunt?

14. What is the woman most interested in doing?

15. What does the man think of the woman applicant?

Section B

Passage One

Many foreign students are attracted not only to the academic programs at a particular US college but also to the larger community, which affords the chance to soak up the surrounding culture. Few foreign universities put much emphasis on the cozy communal life that characterizes American campuses from clubs and sports teams to student publications and drama societies. "The campus and the American university have become identical in people's minds," says Brown University President Vartan Gregorian. "In America, it is assumed that a student's daily life is as important as his learning experience." Foreign students also come in search of choices. America's menu of options — research universities, state institutions, private liberal-arts schools, community colleges, religious institutions, military academies — is unrivaled. "In Europe," says history professor Jonathan Steinberg, who has taught at both Harvard and Cambridge, "there is one system, and that is it." While students overseas usually must demonstrate expertise in a specific field, whether law or philosophy or chemistry, most American universities insist that students sample natural and social sciences, languages and literature before choosing a field of concentration. Such opposing philosophies grow out of different traditions and power structures. In Europe and Japan, universities are answerable only to a Ministry of Education, which sets academic standards and distributes money. While centralization ensures that all students are equipped with roughly the same resources and perform at roughly the same level, it also discourages experimentation. "When they make mistakes, they make big ones," says Robert Rosenzweig, president of the Association of American Universities. "They set a system in wrong directions, and it's like steering a supertanker."

Questions 16 to 19 are based on the passage you have just heard.

16. What does the speaker say characterizes American campuses?
17. What does Brown University President Vartan Gregorian say about students' daily life?
18. In what way is the United States unrivalled according to the speaker?
19. What does the speaker say about universities in Europe and Japan?

Passage Two

Hello, ladies and gentlemen. Welcome aboard your sea-link ferry from Folkestone to Boulogne and wish you a pleasant trip with us. We are due to leave Folkestone in about five minutes and a journey to Boulogne will take approximately two hours. We are getting good reports of the weather in the Channel and in France, so we should have a calm crossing. Sun and temperatures of 30 degrees Celsius are reported on the French coast. For your convenience on the journey, we'd like to point out that there are a number of facilities available on board. There's a snack bar serving sandwiches and hot and cold refreshments situated in the front of A deck. There's also a restaurant serving hot meals situated on B deck. If you need to change money or cash travellers' checks, we have a bank on board. You can find the bank on C deck between the ship's office and the duty-free shop. Toilets are situated on B deck at the rear of the ship and on A deck next to the snack bar. For the children, there's a games room on C deck next to the duty-free shop. Here children can find a variety of electronic games. Passengers are reminded that the lounge on B deck is for the sole use of passengers travelling with cars and that there is another lounge on C deck at the front of the ship for passengers travelling without cars. Finally, ladies and gentlemen, we'd like to wish you a pleasant journey and hope that you'll travel with us again in the near future.

Questions 20 to 22 are based on the passage you have just heard.

20. What does the speaker say about the sea-link ferry?
21. Where is the snack bar situated?
22. What does the speaker say about the lounge on B deck?

Passage Three

On Christmas Eve in 1994, humans entered a cave in the mountains of southeastern France for what was probably the first time in 20,000 years. The vivid images of more than 300 animals that Jean-Marie Chauvet and his assistants found on the cave walls were like none that they had seen before. Unusual in the Grotte Chauvet, as the cave is now called in honor of its discoverer, are paintings of many flesh-eating animals. Other known caves from the same geographical area and time period contain only paintings of plant-eaters. The paintings in this cave refute the old theory that Cro-Magnon people painted animals that they hunted and then ate. Now many specialists believe that cave paintings were not part of a ritual to bring good luck to hunters. They point out that while deer made up a major part of their diet, there are no drawings of deer. They believe that the animals painted were those central to the symbolic and spiritual life of the times, animals that represented something deep and spiritual to the people. Scientists are hopeful that Grotte Chauvet will yield new information about the art and lifestyle of Cro-Magnon people. They readily admit, however, that little is understood yet as to the reasons why ice age artists created their interesting and detailed paintings. Scientists also wonder why some paintings were done in areas that are so difficult to get to, in caves, for example, that are 2,400 feet underground, and accessible only by crawling through narrow passageways.

Questions 23 to 25 are based on the passage you have just heard.

23. How did the cave get its name?
24. What is the old theory about the paintings in the cave?
25. What do scientists readily admit according to the speaker?

Part III 听力原文

Section A

1. W: Can you come to the concert with me this weekend? Or do you have to prepare for exams?

M: I still have a lot to do, but maybe a break would do me good.

Q: What will the man probably do?

2. W: What does the paper say about the horrible incident that happened this morning on Flight 870 to Hong Kong?

M: It ended with the arrest of the three hijackers. They had forced the plane to fly to Japan, but all the passengers and crew members landed safely.

Q: What do we learn from the conversation?

3. M: Hello. This is the most fascinating article I've ever come across. I think you should spare some time to read it.

W: Oh, really? I thought that anything about the election would be tedious.

Q: What are the speakers talking about?

4. W: I'm not going to trust the restaurant critic from that magazine again. The food here doesn't taste anything like what we had in Chinatown.

M: It definitely wasn't worth the wait.

Q: What do we learn from the conversation?

5. W: Do you know what's wrong with Mark? He's been acting very strangely lately.

M: Come on. With his mother hospitalized right after he's taken on a new job, he's just got a lot on his mind.

Q: What do we learn from the conversation about Mark?

6. W: There were only 20 students at last night's meeting, so nothing could be voted on.

M: That's too bad. They'll have to turn up in greater numbers if they want a voice on campus issues.

Q: What does the man mean?

7. M: I try to watch TV as little as possible, but it's so hard.

W: I didn't watch TV at all before I retired, but now I can hardly tear myself away from it.

Q: What do we learn from the conversation?

8. W: I'm having a problem registering for the classes I want.

M: That's too bad, but I'm pretty sure you'll be able to work everything out before this semester starts.

Q: What does the man mean?

Long Conversation One

W: Jack, sit down and listen. This is important. We'll have to tackle the problems of the exporting step by step. And the first move is to get an up-to-date picture of where we stand now.

M: Why don't we just concentrate on expanding here at home?

W: Of course, we should hold on to our position here. But you must admit the market here is limited.

M: Yes, but it's safe. The government keeps out foreigners with import controls. So I must admit I feel sure we could hold our own against foreign bikes.

W: I agree. That's why I am suggesting exporting. Because I feel we can compete with the best of them.

M: What you are really saying is that we'd make more profit by selling bikes abroad, where we have a cost advantage and can charge high prices.

W: Exactly.

更多学习资源，关注吉井解学公众号

M: But, wait a minute. Packaging, shipping, financing, etc. will push up our cost and we could end up no better off, maybe worse off.

W: OK. Now there are extra costs involved. But if we do it right, they can be built into the price of the bike and we can still be competitive.

M: How sure are you about our chances of success in the foreign market?

W: Well, that's the sticky one. It's going to need a lot of research. I'm hoping to get your help. Well, come on, Jack. Is it worth it, or not?

M: There will be a lot of problems.

W: Nothing we can't handle.

M: Um... I'm not that hopeful. But, yes, I think we should go ahead with the feasibility study.

W: Marvelous, Jack. I was hoping you'd be on my side.

Questions 9 to 12 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

9. What does the woman intend to do?

10. Why does the man think it's safe to focus on the home market?

11. What is the man's concern about selling bikes abroad?

12. What do the speakers agree to do?

Long Conversation Two

W: What does the term "alternative energy source" mean?

M: When we think of energy or fuel for our homes and cars, we think of petroleum, a fossil fuel processed from oil removed from the ground, of which there is a limited supply. But alternative fuels can be many things. Wind, sun and water can all be used to create fuel.

W: Is the threat of running out of petroleum real?

M: It has taken thousands of years to create the natural stores of petroleum we have available. We are consuming it at a much faster rate than it is being produced over time. The real controversy surrounding the amount of petroleum we have is how much we need to keep in reserve for future use. Most experts agree that by around 2025, the amount of petroleum we use will reach a peak. Then production and availability will begin to seriously decline. This is not to say there will be no petroleum at this point. But it'll become very difficult and therefore expensive to extract.

W: Is that the most important reason to develop alternative fuel and energy sources?

M: There are two very clear reasons to do so. One is that whether we have 60 or 600 years of fossil fuels left, we have to find other fuel sources eventually. So the sooner we start, the better off we will be. The other big argument is that when we burn fossil fuels, we release CO₂ into the atmosphere, which leads to some long-term negative effects, like global warming and the greenhouse effect.

Questions 13 to 15 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

13. What do we usually refer to when we talk about energy according to the man?

14. What do most experts agree on according to the man?

15. What does the man think we should do now?

Section B

Passage One

Karen Smith is a buyer for a department store in New York. Department store buyers purchase the goods that their stores sell. They not only have to know what is fashionable at the moment, but also have to guess what will become fashionable next season or next year. Most buyers work for just one department in a store. But the goods that Karen finds may be displayed and sold in several different sections of the store. Her job involves buying handicrafts from all over the world. Last year, she made a trip to Morocco and returned with rugs, pots, dishes and pans. The year before, she visited Mexico and bought back hand-made table cloths, mirrors with frames of tin and paper flowers. The paper flowers are bright and colorful, so they were used to decorate the whole store. This year Karen is travelling in Malaysia, Thailand and Indonesia. Many of the countries that Karen visits have government offices that promote handicrafts. The officials are glad to cooperate with her by showing her the products that are available. Karen especially likes to visit markets in small towns and villages whenever she can arrange for it. She is always looking for interesting and unusual items. Karen thinks she has the best job she could have found. She loves all the travelling that she has to do because she often visits markets and small out-of-the-way places. She sees much more of the country she visits than an ordinary tourist would. As soon as she gets back to New York from one trip, Karen begins to plan another.

Questions 16 to 18 are based on the passage you have just heard.

16. What is said to make a good department store buyer?

Passage Two

Mark felt that it was time for him to take part in his community, so he went to the neighborhood meeting after work. The area's city councilwoman was leading a discussion about how the quality of life was on the decline. The neighborhood faced many problems. Mark looked at the charts taped to the walls. There were charts for parking problems, crime, and for problems in vacant buildings. Mark read from the charts: police patrols cut back, illegal parking up 20%. People were supposed to suggest solutions to the councilwoman. It was too much for Mark. "The problems are too big," he thought. He turned to the man next to him and said, "I think this is a waste of my time. Nothing I could do would make a difference here." As he neared the bus stop on his way home, Mark saw a woman carrying a grocery bag and a baby. As Mark got closer, her other child, a little boy, suddenly darted into the street. The woman tried to reach for him, but as she moved, her bag shifted and the groceries started to fall out. Mark ran to take the boy's arm and led him back to his mother. "You gotta stay with mom," he said. Then he picked up the scattered groceries while the woman smiled in relief. "Thanks!" she said. "You've got great timing!" "Just being neighborly," Mark said. As he rode home, he glanced at the poster near his seat in the bus. "Small acts of kindness add up." Mark smiled and thought, "Maybe that's a good place to start."

Questions 19 to 22 are based on the passage you have just heard.

19. What did Mark think he should start doing?
20. What was being discussed when Mark arrived at the neighborhood meeting?
21. What did Mark think of the community's problems?
22. Why did Mark smile on his ride home?

Passage Three

Can a stressful childhood lead to heart disease? What about current stressors — longer work hours, threats of layoffs, collapsing pension funds? A study last year in The Lancet examined more than 11,000 heart-attack sufferers from 52 countries. It found that in the year before their heart attacks, patients had been under significantly more strains than some 13,000 healthy control subjects. Those strains came from work, family, financial troubles, depression and other causes. "Each of these factors individually was associated with increased risk," says Dr. Salim Yusuf, professor of medicine at Canada's McMaster University and senior investigator on the study. "Together, they accounted for 30% of overall heart-attack risk." But people respond differently to high-pressure work situations. Whether it produces heart problems seems to depend on whether you have a sense of control over life, or live at the mercy of circumstances and superiors. That was the experience of John O'Connell, a Rockford, Ill., laboratory manager, who suffered his first heart attack in 1996, at the age of 56. In the two years before, his mother and two of his children had suffered serious illnesses, and his job had been changed in the reorganization. "My life seemed completely out of control," he says. "I had no idea where I would end up." He ended up in hospital due to a block in his artery. Two months later, he had a triple bypass surgery. A second heart attack when he was 58 left his doctor shaking his head. "There's nothing more we can do for you," doctors told him.

Questions 23 to 25 are based on the passage you have just heard.

23. What does the passage mainly discuss?
24. What do we learn about John O'Connell's family?
25. What did John O'Connell's doctors tell him when he had a second heart attack?

Part III 听力原文

Section A

- W: Wow, what a variety of salads you've got on your menu! Could you recommend something special?
 M: Well, I think you can try this mixed salad. We make the dressing with fresh berries.
 Q: What does the man mean?
- W: I was talking to Mary the other day and she mentioned that your new consulting firm is doing really well.
 M: Yes. Business picked up much faster than we anticipated. We now have over 200 clients.
 Q: What do we learn about the man from the conversation?
- M: Do you know where we keep flash discs and printing paper?
 W: They should be in the cabinet if there are any. That's where we keep all of our office supplies.
 Q: What does the woman mean?
- W: The print in this dictionary is so small. I can't read the explanations at all.
 M: Let me get my magnifying glass. I know I just can't do without it.
 Q: What does the man mean?
- W: I'm considering having my office redecorated. The furniture is old and the paint is chipping.
 M: I'll give you my sister-in-law's number. She just graduated from an interior design academy and will give a free estimate.
 Q: What is the woman considering?
- W: We have a full load of goods that needs to be delivered. But we can't get a container ship anywhere.
 M: That's always been a problem in this port. The facilities here are never able to meet our needs.
 Q: What are the speakers talking about?
- W: Why didn't Rod get a pay raise?
 M: The boss just isn't convinced that his work attitude warranted it. She said she saw him by the coffee machine more often than at his desk.
 Q: What are the speakers talking about?
- W: The hotel called, saying that because of a scheduling error, they won't be able to cater for our banquet.
 M: I know an Indian restaurant on the High Street that offers a special dinner for groups. The food is excellent and the room is large enough to accommodate us.
 Q: What does the man suggest they do?

Long Conversation One

- M: Hello, Jane.
 W: Hello, Paul.
 M: Please come in. I'm just getting ready to go home. Susan is expecting me for dinner. I wanted to be on time for a change.
 W: Look, I'm terribly sorry to drop in at this time on Friday, Paul, but it is rather important.
 M: That's OK. What's the problem?

更多学习资源，关注吉井解学公众号

W: Well, Paul, I won't keep you long. You see there is a problem with the exchange rates. The Indian Rupee has taken a fall on the foreign exchange market. You see there has been a sharp increase in India's balance of payment deficit.

M: I see. That's serious, isn't it?

W: Well, as you know, there have been reports of unrest in India, and the prospects for the Rupee look pretty gloomy.

M: And that's going to affect us, as if we didn't have enough problems on our hands.

W: So I thought it would be wise to take out forward exchange cover to protect our position on the outstanding contracts.

M: Just a minute. Forward exchange cover? Now what does that mean exactly?

W: Well, it means that JO Motors enters into a commitment to sell Indian Rupees at the present rate.

M: I see. And how will that benefit us?

W: Well, JO Motors won't lose out if the Indian Rupee falls further.

M: What will it cost, Jane?

W: A small percentage, about 1%, and that can be built into the price of the bike.

M: Well, I don't suppose there is much choice. All right, Jane, let's put it into action.

Questions 9 to 11 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

9. What do we learn about the man's daily life?

10. Why did the woman come to see the man?

11. What makes the woman worry about the Indian Rupee?

Long Conversation Two

W: Charles, among other things, you are regarded as one of America's great masters of the Blues — a musical idiom that is essentially about loss, particularly the loss of romantic love. Why does love die?

M: People often get into love affairs because they have unrealistic expectations about somebody. Then when the person doesn't turn out to be who they thought he or she was, they start thinking "maybe I can change him or her." That kind of thinking is a mistake. Because when the dust settles, people are going to be pretty much what they are. It's a rare thing for anybody to be able to change who they really are. And this creates a lot of problems.

W: At 62, you continue to spend a large percentage of your life touring. What appeals to you about life on the road?

M: Music. I don't especially love life on the road, but I figure if you are lucky enough to be able to do what you truly love doing, you've got the ultimate in life.

W: What's the most widely-held misconception about the life of a famous musician?

M: People think it's all glamour. Actually we have the same troubles as they do. Playing music doesn't mean life treats you any better.

W: How do you feel about being recognized everywhere you go?

M: You'd think I'd be used to it by now. But I still find it fascinating. You go to a little town in Japan, where nobody speaks English, yet they know you on sight and know all your music. I'm still amazed by the love people express for me and for my music.

Questions 12 to 15 are based on the conversation you have just heard.

12. What does the man say about most people when they get into love affairs?

13. What does the man say about himself as a singer on the road most of his life?

14. What do most people think of the life of a famous musician?

15. How does the man feel whenever he is recognized by his fans?

Section B

Passage One

Changing technology and markets have stimulated the team approach to management. Inflation, resource scarcity, reduced personnel levels and budget cuts have all underscored the need for better coordination in organizations. Team management provides for this coordination. Team management calls for new skills if personnel potential is to be fully realized. Although a team may be composed of knowledgeable people, they must learn new ways of relating and working together to solve cross-functional problems. When teams consist of experienced employees from hierarchical organizations who have been conditioned to traditional organizational culture, cooperation may not occur naturally. It may need to be created. Furthermore, the issue is not just how the team can function more effectively, but how it integrates with the overall organization or society that it supposedly serves. A group of individuals is not automatically a team. Therefore, team building may be necessary in order to improve the group's performance. Casey, an expert in this field, suggests that the cooperation process within teams must be organized, promoted and managed. He believes that team cooperation results when members go beyond their individual capabilities, beyond what each is used to being and doing. Together, the team may then produce something new, unique and superior to that of any one member. For this to happen, he suggests the multicultural managers exhibit understanding of their own and others' cultural influences and limitations. They should also cultivate such skills as toleration of ambiguity, persistence and patience, as well as assertiveness. If a team manager exemplifies such qualities, then the team as a whole would be better able to realize their potential and achieve their objectives.

Questions 16 to 18 are based on the passage you have just heard.

16. What should team members do to fully realize their potential?
17. What needs to be considered for effective team management?
18. What conclusion can we draw from what Casey says?

Passage Two

In 1994, when Mark Andreessen was just 23 years old, he arrived in Silicon Valley with an idea that would change the world. As a student at the University of Illinois, he and his friends had developed a program called Mosaic, which allowed people to share information on the World Wide Web. Before Mosaic, the Web had been used mainly by scientists and other technical people, who were happy just to send and receive text. But with Mosaic, Andreessen and his friends had developed a program which could send images over the Web as well. Mosaic was an overnight success. It was put on the university's network at the beginning of 1993. And by the end of the year, it had over a million users. Soon after, Andreessen went to seek his fortune in Silicon Valley. Once he got there, he started to have meetings with a man called Jim Clark, who was one of the Valley's most famous entrepreneurs. In 1994, nobody was making any real money from the Internet which was still very slow and hard to use. But Andreessen had seen an opportunity that would make him and Clark rich within two years. He suggested they should create a new computer program that would do the same job as Mosaic but would be much easier to use. Clark listened carefully to Andreessen, whose ideas and enthusiasm impressed him greatly. Eventually, Clark agreed to invest three million dollars of his own money in the project, and to raise an extra 15 million from venture capitalists who were always keen to listen to Clark's new ideas.

Questions 19 to 21 are based on the passage you have just heard.

19. What do we learn about Mosaic?
20. What did Andreessen do upon arriving in Silicon Valley?
21. Why were venture capitalists willing to join in Clark's investment?

Passage Three

Advertising informs consumers about the existence and benefits of products and services and attempts to persuade them to buy them. The best form of advertising is probably word-of-mouth advertising which occurs when people tell their friends about the benefits of products or services that they have purchased. Yet virtually no providers of goods or services rely on this alone. They use a range of advertising and promotion forms. Institutional advertising is designed to create a positive image and build up a reputation rather than to sell a particular product. Large companies often use it to build up their brand or company name. Even large companies can find it difficult to sustain a campaign of this kind, however, because it is expensive. Most large companies, though, can afford to hire the services of a large advertising agency. It is their job to create the right kind of advertising and to place it in the right media. The choice of media is a complicated one: broadcast, print, outdoor, and digital. Before a national campaign, agencies often produce alternative ads in a limited range of media for testing purposes. They can then compare the effectiveness of the alternatives before deciding on a final version.

Questions 22 to 25 are based on the passage you have just heard.

22. What is probably the best form of advertising according to the speaker?
23. What is the purpose of institutional advertising?
24. How do large companies generally handle their advertising?
25. What would advertising agencies often do before a national campaign?
